NEW PERILS FOR AMERICANS SEEN

Days Of Chinese Regular Army At Shanghai Are Numbered, Belief

SHANGHAI, Feb. 6.—Hello everybody!

These Japanese and Chinese armies which have been jumping at each other's throats during the past week to the discomfort of the rest of the world took things a little easier today and gave your headline hunter a chance to scout around and dig up some first-rate military opinion about what's in store for us.

And the result of this little private investigation is the news that just about all the non-Japanese military experts in Shanghai, whom there is a great big hatful right now, are convinced the days of the Chinese regular army in and around Shanghai are numbered.

New Threat To Americans. And therein lies a new threat to the comfort and well-being of the thousands of American and other foreign residents who make their homes in this battle-torn metropolis on the shores of the Whangpoo River.

If it's true China's army is due for a hasty exit from its entrenchments in Chapei and elsewhere, and because of what I've heard this morning I wouldn't bet against that at any odds, trouble and more trouble is looming in this quaint and sprawling old town of a nation that foreign authorities and residents of the International City dislike thinking about.

Those Chinese troops are going to have to go somewhere. They're a brave crowd and don't mind going (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Today is the first of the Chinese new year. Happy new year! Oh, yeah?

Liberty grange hall is a busy place today, with all the activities of the annual meeting of the Lawrence County Wool Growers' association taking place there.

This morning Joseph A. Rutter, East Washington street, brought a small testament into The News office. The book is no larger than a postage stamp and barely an eighth of an inch thick, yet it is a complete copy of the New Testament and is illustrated. Of course the book cannot be read without the aid of a magnifying glass, but under one of these every word is legible.

According to a note to Pa New today, Volant has had no boro tax assessed for the past three years. Residents of Volant pay tax for school and county purposes, but have not been assessed for boro purposes for three years, the note says.

In the Chapei region thousands of houses have been burned to the ground as a result of incendiary bombs dropped by Japanese planes.

Not Interested In Politics Says Butler

General Smedley D. Butler is not interested in going into politics, he told a representative of The News last night, and does not intend to become a candidate for the United States senate.

"I can't afford it. I haven't gotten my home paid for yet, and a man must be a rich man to go into politics if he wants to be straight," he said. "Besides all that, my health is not so good at the present time. This business of going around lecturing is not good for one's health and my doctor has ordered me to take things easy. Nope, I'm not going into politics," he said in conclusion.

Sees Former Comrades. As General Butler was delivering these words he was gazing into the faces of some of his former comrades in the service and recalling where he had served with them.

First, there was James Colbert of this city, who served under General Butler at Quantico and also did a hitch down at Nicaragua. General Butler spied him immediately as he was in the marine uniform and acted as one of the color bearers for V. F. W., who with representatives of the American Legion and Troop F occupied the platform with the general.

Missing Girl In Philadelphia Is Object Of Hunt

All Available Philadelphia Policemen Scouring Neighborhood For Tot

CELLAR OF VACANT HOUSE IS DUG UP

Little Dorothy Lutz, 8, Has Been Missing Since Wednesday

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 6.—Fearing that 8-year-old Dorothy Lutz, missing from home since Wednesday, has met with foul play at the hands of a maniac, every available Philadelphia policeman today joined in a house-to-house hunt for the child.

"Leave no stone unturned. Every man must make a written report before going off duty," Inspector Edwin Wildridge directed.

Cellar Dug Up.

Armed with picks and shovels, officers today dug in the cellar of a vacant house in the neighborhood where Dorothy lived. Others began a detailed search of every building in the neighborhood seeking trace of the girl. The digging squads worked in relays, spurred by the fear they might find the child's body.

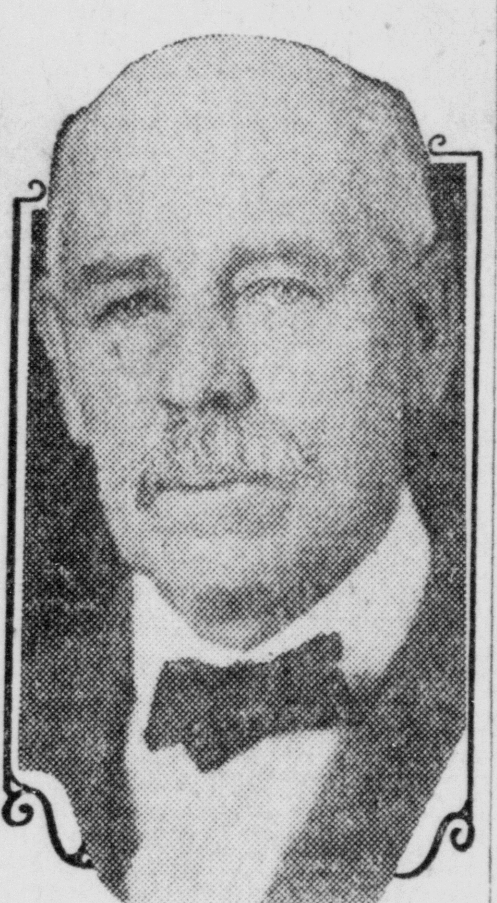

Mrs. Florence Lutz, mother of the girl, was reported on the verge of collapse. She told police she recently moved from an apartment to the little two-room house where she and Dorothy lived until the child's disappearance.

Descriptions of the girl were broadcast in police fliers to every precinct station in Philadelphia and its environs and authorities in nearby towns were asked to be alert for any trace of the missing child.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 6.—(Noon)—With American and British land and sea forces doubled in Shanghai, the Japanese suddenly shifted the centre of pressure today from the Chinese city on the north border of the international settlement to the triangular area nine miles north formed by the confluence of the Whangpoo and Yangtze rivers.

Under cover of naval guns and preceded constantly by watchful air bombers, strong contingents of Japanese regular army troops, first of these to participate in this conflict, are pushing inland in a southeasterly direction from landing points on the south bank of the Yangtze between the Chinese villages of Paoshan and Luisho.

Villages Reduced. Both of these villages have been reduced to dust, splinters, ashes and corpses by yesterday's bombardment.

The landing point of the Japanese troops on the Yangtze is about 15 miles north and slightly east of Shanghai. The fire of heavy guns can be heard from that direction at present.

The map would indicate the Japanese are pushing in a southeasterly direction down the Shanghai-Tai Tsang motor road which passes through the ruins of the Chinese city on the north boundary of the International Concession.

British and American naval and land forces here are almost in contact (Continued On Page Two)

Butler Declares Japan Will Get What She Wants

United States Will Not Become Embroiled In War If She Is Lucky

JAPAN WANTS LAND ABOVE YELLOW RIVER

"Japan will get what she wants in China," was the statement of General Smedley D. Butler, who spoke at The Cathedral last evening under the auspices of the Legion of Honor. "The United States will not become embroiled in war if she is lucky," he further stated.

"I have been asked many times of late, what we are going to do over in China. I don't know. But the Japs know what they are after and they are going to get it. They want the territory north of the Yellow River and will get it and will take Shanghai, too, but will give it back and we'll be so glad they gave it back, we will forget all about the rest."

General Butler was introduced to the audience by Fred L. Rentz, who with General Butler, is a member of the Greater Pennsylvania Council.

Mr. Rentz stated that he had always admired General Butler because he was a fighter and a clean one, but probably got that from his Quaker ancestry.

Contrary to the expectations of a great many people, General Butler is not a big fellow. And, he is quite modest and unassuming. That perhaps is due to the fact that he is a Quaker by birth. He quit practicing the Quaker beliefs, however at the tender age of 16 when he first (Continued On Page Two)

Lawrence County's Delegation For Westford Jobs Passes To A Man

Every man of the eighteen sent to the Pymatuning Dam on Friday was accepted by the examining physician, according to R. L. Meermans, who returned Friday evening. This is rather unusual inasmuch as it is expected that one or two in a group of this size will not come up to the physical requirements.

The group was quartered in the new camp at Westford, Pa., just about four miles from the concentration camp at Espyville. The same type of tent is used in each camp, and the arrangements for meals and care will be just as good in the Westford camp as they are in the Espyville camp.

All Missionaries Are Reported Safe In Message To U. S. Headquarters

By DIXON HOSTE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI, Feb. 6.—(5 p. m.)—A lull in the fighting in the Chinese native city was broken late this afternoon when Chinese and Japanese guns burst forth in a new artillery duel in the Chapei district.

At this hour there were no reports of infantry fighting in Chapei. During the forenoon virtually a truce was in force along the Sino-Japanese front in Chapei, while the Chinese continued their celebration of New Year's day. There was only intermittent firing, though Japanese planes dropped a few bombs.

Several fires were noticed in Chapei but less smoke was arising from this district than on previous days.

Quiet in U. S. Sector.

American marines reported nothing of importance occurring along their sector of the international defense zone.

Foreign military officers were at a loss to explain the failure of the Japanese to continue their offensive in Chapei this morning. It had been understood a two-day attack had been ordered.

The Japanese, however, apparently halted the fighting to await reinforcements and the arrival of Admiral Kichishaburo, who is to replace Admiral Shiosawa in command of operations here.

Meanwhile Chinese troops made merry during the forenoon and a Japanese officer, without a trace of (Continued On Page Two)

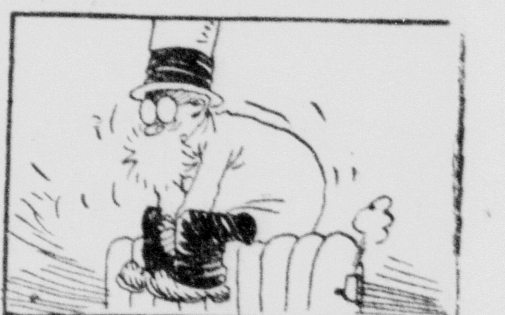

Indiana Bank Holdup Foiled By Vigilantes

(International News Service) WAVELAND, Ind., Feb. 6.—Heroic vigilantes defeated a gang of bank robbers in a desperate gun battle that raged in this little town of 600 inhabitants early today. Bandits variously estimated at from six to 10 tried in vain to obtain the money in the vault of the State Bank of Waveland, but so fierce was the resistance of the vigilantes that they were driven out without obtaining a cent.

Nine blasts of nitroglycerine fired by the robbers and the bullets fired during the gun battle wrecked the bank with an estimated loss of $7,500.

More than 100 shots were fired in the encounter, which lasted for nearly an hour after the robbers had seized control of the little town.

For years go by with lightning speed and one gets rather gray, remembering birthdays the time, it's forty four today.

Workers Will Report Sunday

Teams In Relief Fund Drive To Gather At 4 O'Clock Tomorrow

EXPECT TO REACH GOAL OF $15,000

When the workers in the Mayor's Relief committee campaign for $15,000 meet Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in The Castleton, it is hoped that the $5000 needed to complete the campaign will be reported. Already ten thousand dollars has been reported in the two meetings held, and if the meeting Sunday holds up to the average the campaign will be completed.

The success of the workers thus far has been most satisfying. However, the persons who usually subscribe substantial amounts have been canvassed and the remaining $5000 must come from the people who will subscribe from one to five dollars per month for five months.

Double Good

The results from the money expended by the Mayor's Relief committee are a double value. Through the methods employed by the committee an applicant for aid is given an opportunity to work, thus removing any stigma of charity from the aid he receives. This work is (Continued On Page Two)

Pennsy To Ask For U. S. Loan

Atterbury Tells Plan For Application; May Seek Five Million Monthly

General W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, in response to inquiries today, declared the Pennsylvania would apply to the Reconstruction Finance corporation for a loan.

No time was set for the company's application nor was any mention made of the extent of the loan, although it was indicated the road would request a reasonable sum. A large program of electrification and terminal improvements is now under way.

Hazards Loan Guess.
President Atterbury, asked to hazard a guess as to the probable amount which may be needed, stated a rough estimate would be $5,000,000 a month. He declined to commit himself on any final figure.

The rail executive expressed again his confidence in the future with the actual operation of the Reconstruction Finance corporation set up by President Hoover.

BUTLER SAYS JAPAN WILL GET WHAT SHE WANTS

entered the services of Uncle Sam as a Marine and by the time he was 19 years of age, had been in three wars and had risen to the rank of a captain.

Have Queer Philosophy
The Chinese military leaders have a queer philosophy in regard to the Japanese occupancy of Manchuria and feel the sooner they come over and conquer what portions of China they want, the better it will be for the country, he stated.

They explain this attitude by the fact that they expect to absorb the Japanese who occupy their territory, relating the history of Genghis Khan, the Mongolian leader who swept down into China and conquered it. The Chinese leaders married him off to a Chinese girl and his sons, and grandsons in turn were married to Chinese girls so that in the course of a few centuries, all traces of Mongol blood were practically wiped out. The same thing was true of the Manchu dynasty.

The Chinese war leaders feel that Japan will be able to contribute new strength to the Chinese nation as the Chinese absorb the invaders.

Chinese soldiers fight beautifully but their generals are crooks, Butler stated. They will fight for a time and then sell out to the opposition.

Butler told how this was done while the Northern and Southern armies were opposing each other when he was stationed in China to protect American interests between 1927 and 1929.

The two armies were fighting about Shanghai and things looked as if some of the other nations might become involved, so he was sent to Shanghai with a detachment of Marines to protect the United States interests in the International Settlement, President Coolidge urged him to take every precaution to avoid war. At that time, there seemed to be some dispute over the boundary lines of the International Settlement and General Butler was ordered not to become involved. Great Britain had 16,000 crack troops in the field and they had erected a barbed wire barricade right on the boundary line.

General Sells Out
In order to avoid any complications, General Butler stated he kept off the boundary line, but observed sand bag barricades at the end of each street, fifty feet inside of boundary line. This worked beautifully and they are still in use, the General stated.

After the northern and southern armies had fought around Shanghai for a time and many men had been killed, the Northern general sold out to the southern army for 100,000.

Then the Northern army retreated to Tientsin with the southern army pursuing them, and the fiasco was repeated.

At Tientsin, there was a concession similar to the one at Shanghai the treaty drawn up after the Boxer uprising declaring there was to be a neutral zone six and a half miles along each side of the railroad for a certain distance.

This was occupied and the Americans were ordered out by the Chinese general in a great speech made in Chinese. General Butler found out after the speech had been delivered that the General was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and had known Butler when he was loaned to Philadelphia to clean up the town. Butler asked him why he had spoken in Chinese and not English while addressing him, and the Chinese general explained that it was done for the effect it would have on his Chinese followers.

They got together and in English agreed to terms, whereby the Americans were invited to occupy the territory.

Later on, he said he persuaded the Chinese Chamber of Commerce to pay the Northern general $100,000 and forty wives and he sold out again and the war was ended.

Jap Forts in Manchuria
General Butler stated that he made a visit up through Manchuria and found that the Japanese had a fort at every bridge and tunnel and were keeping about 45,000 troops on guard there. He asked a Japanese officer why this was done and the officer told him that the Japanese were holding its annual war maneuvers in China that year instead of in Japan.

The Japanese have been prepared for the steps they are now taking for some time, the general asserted, and will not stop this fighting until they get what they are after.

They are following one example in Nicaragua and Haiti. We send Marines down there and fight these people and if anyone is killed it is always a bandit. Japan enters China and lands sailors and soldiers, but calls them Marines, because Marines are not supposed to make war merely to act as protectors of their country's interests.

So if the Japanese Marines kill anybody, they claim that the soldiers or civilians killed are bandits and the Marines are merely acting to protect the interests of their country.

They declared the invasion of the Chapei area was made to protect their interests there, that an emergency existed.

"As sure as you were born, the Japanese are going to try and take the Philippines and we might as well give them to Japan as it will cost us much less in the long run. The first thing you know, we will get mad and go over and fight them and that will cost us a lot of money and in the end Japan will probably get the Philippines anyhow."

France does not seem interested in the present fracas. She has her own private concession in China and it looks to me as if she might be encouraging Japan.

"However, if we keep our heads and are lucky, we may not get into war over there, but things are not very encouraging at the present time," he said in conclusion.

done on city property and the taxpayers are thus given results also. Food bought and distributed is of the best quality, and being bought in wholesale lots the cost is kept down. This requires money and the money subscribed through this campaign is the money that purchases the food.

An effort will be made in the churches of the city Sunday morning to raise sufficient subscriptions to bring the total of the campaign up to $15,000. Rev. S. L. Maxwell, president of the New Castle Ministerial association said today, "the association has not had time to meet and make a formal request upon all the ministers for Sunday, but an informal canvas of the men reveals a willingness to co-operate in the matter. Therefore I am asking every minister to take this matter up in his morning church service on Sunday and to see that it is presented to all Bible classes. Through this method we hope to get the amount needed."

Team workers are out today signing contributors to the pledge cards and by Sunday afternoon it is hoped that the amount will be in. There will be no protracted meeting Sunday, merely reports.

CHINESE ARMY AT SHANGHAI IS NEAR TO DEFEAT

to their ancestors when duty calls but there never was an army yet that didn't have to retreat in time of need.

Retreat Into Settlement?
The only trouble with this particular little situation is that they may have to retreat into the International Settlement and then watch out.

Arrangements have been made to receive these Chinese soldiers in the International City if they will throw down their arms, but right here is where probably the most serious menace to foreign residents of Shanghai arises.

The streets of the International Concession are crowded and packed with several hundred thousand refugees now suffering the pangs of hunger and cold and walking the pavements bare-footed.

Rice shops have already begun to be looted and food riots are expected.

What will happen if these cold and hungry desperate thousands of refugees are increased by thousands of fleeing Chinese soldiers is just the thing that is disturbing the sleep of the foreign authorities—that is, when the shooting stops long enough to let them get any sleep at all.

To Split Forces.
Now, to let you in on the expert military opinion I garnered this morning. It seems that a strong Japanese drive southwestward from the Yangtze river in the direction of the Whangpoo river, but on a line west of Shanghai could be easily accomplished with the land, sea and air forces the Japanese now have at their command.

Such a drive would split the Chinese regular forces in half, forcing the western half westward into the marshes and lowlands in the vicinity of Suchow and Lake Taihu.

It would also cut the Nanking railroad, thus disrupting rail communications between Nanking and Shanghai.

Further south such a drive would cut the Shanghai-Hang-Chow railroad, preventing reinforcements from that direction. Whatever forces remain to the east of that line would be cut off entirely from the rest of China.

Under a rain of Japanese air force bombs there would be nothing left for the Chinese defenders of the north railway station to but flee across the barriers into the International City of Shanghai.

Now maybe you've got some idea of the whooping big problems our diplomats and military leaders have to worry about. It's a real problem, a mighty real and big one.

Dr. W. D. Cleland County Physician

Deadlock Over Appointment By County Commissioners Is Broken Today

Deadlock over the appointment of a county physician was broken this morning when county commissioners elected Dr. W. D. Cleland to the position. Salary was fixed at $1800 per year, which is a decrease of $400 from that paid the present incumbent, Dr. F. E. Eakin.

The duties of the county physician are to take care of cases at the county jail, the county home, and other cases of persons who are receiving financial aid from the county. Work in this branch has increased greatly during the past year.

Dr. W. D. Cleland, who has been appointed to the position is the son of the late Dr. D. D. Cleland of Harlanburg. Dr. Cleland has been practicing in New Castle for some years, and is among the best known physicians of the county.

When other county offices were chosen in early January a deadlock occurred when it came to the appointment of a jail physician. County Commissioner P. O. Elder was for Eakin, the present incumbent, F. R. Woods was for Dr. E. H. Wilmarth; and E. C. Conners was for Dr. W. D. Cleland.

An agreement was reached today, however, on Dr. Cleland. There was some question about when the new county physician would enter upon the discharge of his duties. Dr. Eakin, however, announced that he would prefer to retire at once, so that Dr. Cleland will immediately assume charge.

Dr. Eakin, who retires, has performed the duties of the office in a very capable manner.

universities and a publishing house with a priceless collection of rare books, were deliberately destroyed. Such is the war Japan is waging against China in the metropolis of Shanghai, the center of international trade and commerce of the far east.

Peace-loving China is forced to defend her territorial sovereignty by force of arms. As mayor of Shanghai I have exhausted every means at my disposal to avoid war, but my efforts have been balked by Japanese militarism, which knows neither reason nor argument but the thirst for blood.

Many protests have been advanced by the Japanese to justify their invasion of Chinese territory, but their recent atrocities will be envisaged by the world in their true sense.

TEA TASTER CLAIMS SEA TRAVEL RECORD

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—What is believed to be a record for sea travel was revealed here recently when F. E. Fernald, 56-year-old retired Chicago tea-taster prepared to make his 44th trip across the Pacific.

Fernald said he made 44 trips across the ocean during his 50 years' service with a New York and Chicago tea firm. His work, he said, was to test the various grades of tea purchased by his employers.

Saw Donaldson Shot

Albert Lucas, intimate friend of Francis Donaldson, slain Philadelphia society youth, is shown in the Norristown, Pa., court where he is a witness at the trial of Edward Allen, charged with the murder. Lucas was the only eye witness to the shooting, which took place following an argument over Allen's debaucherie sister, Rose, who was in love with Donaldson.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Hairhoger Funeral.
Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Hairhoger, Wampum, were held from the family home Friday afternoon with Rev. Bredin Houk and Rev. Howard Hartsuff officiating. Rev. and Mrs. Hartsuff sang a most appropriate duet.

Interment was made in Clinton cemetery with Joe Hairhoger, Carl Hairhoger, David Heberling, Ott Heberling, Keith Stephenson and John Gragel as pallbearers.

Miss Jacobson's Funeral.
Funeral services of Alice Lydia Jacobson were held at her late residence in Lowellville, O., on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. Montgomery, former pastor of the Mahoning Presbyterian church. The services were very largely attended and the floral offerings were many and beautiful. Alice McBride and Goldie McClenahan sang "Rock of Ages" during the service.

The pallbearers were John Knoll, Joseph Knoll, Freeman Ripple, Carro Jacobson, Floyd Burns, Joseph Kuhn. Interment was made in Mahoning cemetery.

Charles Cameron.
Charles Cameron, aged 70, of New Castle R. D. 7, died at 2 a. m. today in the Jameson Memorial hospital, after an illness of heart trouble. He had been sick about a year.

Mr. Cameron was born October 10, 1861, the son of Miller and Rachel Cameron and had lived his entire lifetime in New Castle, having been a railroad carpenter. He was a member of the Loyal Order of Moose.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rhoda Stevenson Cameron, and nine children: William M., of Martinez, Cal.; Reuben G., at home; Mrs. James Patton, this city; Mrs. A. D. Dickson, New Kensington; Mrs. C. H. Barton, Rialto, California; Mrs. Charles Logan, New Castle; Mrs. Russell Dugan, Mrs. William English, New Castle and Margaret E., at home; twelve grand children, and one brother, M. A. Cameron, Martinez, Cal.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. from the residence, R. D. 7, and interment will be made in the Greenwood cemetery.

Rev. M. J. Scripture of Titusville will be the officiating minister.

Mrs. Costa's Funeral.
Funeral services of the late Mrs. Rosa Costa of No. 2 West Home street were held Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock in St. Vitus church. Requiem Mass was said by Rev. Fr. Anthony Donatelli. The pallbearers were friends of the family. Interment was made in St. Vitus cemetery.

Stanley Funeral.
Funeral services for Jeannette Marie Stanley of 617 1/2 Superior street were held this morning at eleven o'clock in St. Vitus church. Interment was made in St. Vitus cemetery.

a smile, asserted that hostilities had been suspended to give the Chinese time to celebrate the new year.

Shells Fall in U. S. Area.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Eight Chinese anti-aircraft shells fell in the American regimental headquarters at Shanghai early today (E. S. T.), according to dispatches received by the navy department.

No casualties were reported. Seven of the shells burst, and the eighth, a dud, fell in the eastern detachment belt, resulting in no material damage.

Advices from Col. R. S. Hooker, commanding the fourth regiment of marines stationed at Shanghai, revealed that Japanese airplanes continued to fly over and along the edge of the settlement.

Rear Admiral Y. S. Williams, commander of the Yangtze patrol, died from the U. S. Lurzon at Hankow that this sector was "exceedingly quiet."

Missionaries Safe.
NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—All missionaries and thousands of Chinese refugees are safe today in the northern district of Shanghai, according to a cable timed 2:50 p. m. and received here this morning by the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church.

The cable was signed by the China council of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church, the board's headquarters in the field.

Chinese Getting Aid.
SHANGHAI, Feb. 6 (11 p. m.)—Heavy shelling and machine gun fire was resumed by Chinese and Japanese troops along the Chapei front late tonight after a day of desultory bombing and fighting which resulted in no appreciable gain for either side.

Observers noticed immediately the renewed Chinese artillery fire was characterized by an accuracy almost totally lacking a few days ago, lending strength to reports that foreign gunnery experts had been called into service by the Chinese.

Unconfirmed rumors said the experts were former German army officers. It also was reported that a number of foreign airmen were in the employ of the Chinese.

plete ignorance of events outside their zones, headquarters being equipped with native intelligence agents.

Japanese military authorities keep fully informed night and day by radio observation and radio communication between their distant land and sea forces.

Can't Use U. S. Planes.
The Flagship Houston is equipped with four speedy observation planes, but Admiral Taylor has been prevented from using these for all essential observation because of Chinese prohibition of foreign planes from flying over Chinese territory. Japanese flyers ignore these conventions.

The Japanese line of advance is now to the westward and rear of Woosung, aimed to cut the Chinese army's rail communications with Nanking, westward of Shanghai.

This morning while Yank's of the 31st Infantry marched from the Chapei front across half the Japanese defense zone and up the Nanking road to their billets, Japanese heavy bombing planes with hundred pounds of explosives suspended from the lower wings sailed majestically overhead.

Chinese anti-aircraft guns popped away at them and shells fell in the International City.

Chinese anti-aircraft shells are not provided with time fuses, and explode only when they land, and whenever they land, that is, if they are not duds, as half of them are.

It must not be forgotten, however, that one of these same shells copped one Japanese bomber on the wing yesterday and brought it down with the remainder of its bombs.

Foreign residents don't like it. Think what will happen if the Chinese wing another Japanese bomber and bring it and its heavy body down in Shanghai's crowded business section.

Foreigners join the Chinese in a protest against the Japanese military planes flying over the International City.

WASHINGTON PROGRAM FOR WIMODAUSIS CLUB

On Wednesday, February 10, associates of the Wimodausis Club will gather in the Cathedral for their regular monthly meeting. Hostesses for this date will be Mrs. Roy A. Long and Mrs. Fred Wolford and it is desired that those planning to attend will notify either hostess not later than Monday evening.

After the serving of luncheon, a novel and original program under the direction of Mrs. W. C. Eckert, chairman, directed by Miss Betty Glover will be presented. The entertainment will be in the form of a playlet, and will be in keeping with the Washington Bi-Centennial celebration, and will also honor Mrs. S. E. Crawford, retiring president.

The name of the play is "An Evening in Washington's Home" and has been planned in such a manner that those assembled will really feel as though they are Washington's guests. The cast includes the following: George Washington, Herman Hess; Mrs. Washington, Mrs. John Madigan; Thomas Jefferson, Dr. W. A. Womer; Mrs. Thomas Jefferson, Miss Edith Moore; Dr. Craik, Washington's personal friend and physician, Jim Elmore; Mr. Houdon, sculptor of the Lincoln statue, Dale Mullen; Bishop, Washington's servant, George White; Nellie Custis, Washington's step-daughter, Mrs. Burr Rogers; Mrs. Green, Martha's friend, Mrs. Jay Reed and Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Carl Hart.

Gramoda Kensington
Associates of the Gramoda Kensington were entertained Friday evening at the home of Mrs. George Thomas, Logan street. Cards and music were forms of pastimes, and after the social period the hostess served a dainty lunch. She was assisted by her daughter, Miss Mary Lou Thomas. Red and white tones suggestive of the valentine season were the predominating colors.

Officers Club
The Officers' club of Review 98 of the Women's Benefit Association will meet at the home of Mrs. W. J. Klingensmith, North Cedar street, Monday evening, with Mrs. Elwida Daryl and Mrs. John Earl as associate hostesses.

PIED PIPER PARTY EVENT OF FRIDAY

The Queen Esther Girls of the Croton Avenue Methodist church were delightfully entertained Friday evening at a Pied Piper Party at the home of Eve Nicklin, 127 Phillips street.

As the girls arrived they were met at the door by a "Pied Piper" who piped them through an evening of wholesome fun and frolic. A bag of gold, in the form of butterscotch candies, was the goal for which every one worked through the evening. Each Queen Esther and her guest had a small bag, filled with the amount of pennies that represented her age and these were turned in to apply on the budget.

NEW CASTLE CHAPTER TO PRESENT PLAYLET

Monday evening at the close of lodge ceremonies the members of the New Castle Chapter 105 O. E. S. will entertain the members of the other chapters of the city and friends at a play "For Distinguished Service" in the cathedral.

On Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolford of North street motored to Rochester where they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Bachtlor, who reside at Monaca.

The dinner party was held at the Penn-Beaver Hotel and the guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Anderson, of Beaver, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hyle of Evans City, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolford of New Castle and the host and hostess.

Following the serving of a tasty menu all motored to the Bachtlor home where the remainder of the evening was spent informally with cards.

DEPARTMENT OF BLIND MEETING INTERESTING

The Blind Department of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs held an interesting meeting in the Y. W. C. A. parlors with representatives from fourteen different clubs being in attendance. Splendid reports were heard, indicating that much progress has been made by the committee on educational work. Each representative present reported on the towels being made by the blind for clubs, and so far it was announced that 800 towels are being made for this year. Another item of interest was the account of the sale of rag rugs made by the blind women of this city out of discarded hose.

Twenty-five receptacles donated by David Pyle for receiving of tin foil have been distributed by Harry Gormley, C. W. Mayberry and F. N. Book to public schools, hotels, the court house and Legion Home of this city. Frank Burton, principal of the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school had special lettering put on these articles in the drawing room of the school. The proceeds realized from the sale of the tin foil will be used for educational work of the blind in Lawrence county.

Miss Dorothy Hunter, a blind young girl of this city was present at the meeting, and spoke very interestingly on her training in the school of the state located at Pittsburgh. From this institution she was graduated. She concluded her part of the program by playing a beautiful English Waltz entitled "Dorothy."

An important meeting will be held by the educational committee of the department on Saturday, February 13. On March 2 the regular meeting of this organization will take place in the Y. W. C. A. rooms.

VADE-MECUM CLUB LUNCHEON GUESTS

Mrs. Ben French was a pleasing hostess Friday afternoon when she entertained members of the Vade-Mecum Club in her home on Wilmington avenue at a 1 o'clock luncheon. Covers were laid for all members and the following guests: Mrs. Homer Marley, Mrs. Glen Johnston and Miss Jennie Baker. The table was an array of beauty with its novel ornaments suggesting St. Valentines day, and bouquets of choice flowers.

Later, the guests participated in a card contest, prizes for honors going to Mrs. Oscar Noss and Mrs. Jennie Rice.

The home of Mrs. Noss on Hazel street will be the meeting place for the club in two weeks.

Hutchisons Are Wed For Fifty-Four Years

MR. AND MRS. T. M. HUTCHISON

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Hutchison, of the New Castle-Northern Wilmington road, celebrated the 54th anniversary of their marriage, Friday, February 5.

The happy occasion was observed at their home, where Mr. Hutchison has spent all his life. Mrs. Hutchison came to this country from London, Canada, a bride.

Mr. Hutchison is 85 years of age and his wife is 83.

YOUNG COUPLE HONORED AT DINNER
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Baird, of the Mt. Jackson-Bessemer road entertained at a beautifully appointed dinner in their home Friday evening, in honor of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Baird, a bride and groom of recent date.

A sumptuous menu was served at the appointed hour at a large table fittingly decorated. The guest list included immediate relatives of the honored ones. Pink and white tones prevailed in the decorative scheme. The hosts had as aides, Mrs. Joseph Fisher, Mrs. William Baird and Mrs. John Lusk.

The leisure hours that preceded and followed the feature were spent most informally, and at a suitable time, the honored ones were showered with a collection of many lovely gifts to use in their new home. Special visitors of the evening included Mr. and Mrs. John Nemo, Edward and Louise Nemo.

BERKMAH BRIDGE MEMBERS ENTERTAIN

Members of the Berkma Bridge Club were pleasantly received Friday evening in the home of Miss Kate Hodge, Wallace avenue for their usual social season. The early hours were spent in a card contest, and at the conclusion of play it was discovered the success trophies were won by the Misses Betty Connelly and Delores Gould.

Before adjourning the hostess served a dainty collation at the individual tables. The menu and other appointments were suggestive of St. Valentines day. Miss Martha Rose of Emerson avenue will extend hospitality to the club members in two weeks at her home.

SPOON CLUB MEETS AT ELDER RESIDENCE

Members of the Spoon Club gathered in the home of Mrs. John Elder on East Falls street Friday afternoon for a 1 o'clock luncheon. Covers marked for 26 guests at a table nicely appointed in tones of the season where a delectable menu was served.

Concluding luncheon, the hours were spent informally with bridge. Plans for the next meeting will be announced at a later date.

Our Gang Club
Members of Our Gang Club held their regular meeting at the home of Emmy Lou Wier last evening. An enjoyable evening was spent with cards, the prize going to Mary Crisel, who was taken in as a new member of the club.

Later in the evening the hostess' mother served delicious refreshments, the table being attractively decorated with valentine suggestions and colors. The next meeting will be in two weeks at the home of Elizabeth Yingling of County Line street.

LUNCHEON FEATURES CLUB MEETING

A beautifully appointed 1 o'clock luncheon featured the meeting of the Minerva Bridge Club members on Friday afternoon when they assembled in the home of Mrs. Frank Robinson, North Walnut street.

After partaking of a delicious menu, the guests indulged in a card contest. Mrs. Ray Muder and Mrs. Margaret Pulkerson were presented prizes at the close of the contest for winning honors.

Special guests of the meeting included Mrs. Muder and Mrs. Edmund Long, the latter daughter of the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Sadler on Fairfield avenue, the date to be announced later.

Hospital Park Plot Will Be Improved

Louis Genkinger, director of parks and buildings, today stated that within two weeks a force of men will be put to work improving the city-owned plot of ground south of the Jameson Memorial hospital. The men will be selected in the same manner as those selected to work at Gaston Park.

Genkinger said that he believes that as much work as it is possible to do at this time of year will have been done by next Saturday in Gaston Park and the operations will start in Jameson Park. The work there will consist mostly of grading.

W. C. T. U. and L. T. L.

Members of the Croton Union of the W. C. T. U. will meet Tuesday evening, March 2, in the home of Mrs. T. C. Armstrong, Croton avenue, instead of Monday evening, as planned.

West Side Union
The West Side W. C. T. U. met Friday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Frank Fisher, 7 Atlantic avenue. Devotions were led by Mrs. T. D. Allen. The meeting was opened by singing "Sweet Hour of Prayer."

Very helpful and interesting pieces on the life of Frances Willard were read by Mrs. Frank Fisher, Mrs. Woods and Mrs. Long.

The secretary report of the last meeting shows much good work is being accomplished. Many visits to the sick, the unsaved and the hospitals were given. Tracts, clothing, food, money, etc., were given out. Two dollars was given for the Frances Memorial fund. The meeting was adjourned with prayer.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

NEW CLUB MEETS.
A meeting of the newly organized Friendly Service club will take place from 2 to 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at the "Y". This club formed by the Friendly Service Bureau, of which Miss Emma B. Moore is executive, is proving to be popular with young women of the city.

AUXILIARY PLANS WASHINGTON PARTY

The Perry S. Gaston unit, 333, of the American Legion Auxiliary held its regular business meeting Friday evening in the Legion Home, North Jefferson street, at which time the president, Mrs. E. J. Suber, took up many matters of interest to the members.

A report of the Four County Council at Zelenople was given the members by the president and reports were given by the welfare committee of a number of cases, which will be cared for during the coming week.

A glee club is being formed by the Four County Council, to compete at the state convention to be held in Pittsburgh in July, and a number of women from the auxiliary are planning to join.

Elaborate plans are being made for the Washington and Lincoln dinner party, which will be held in the Legion Home Friday, February 19, with the members of the post as special guests. Invitations have been sent to Mrs. C. V. Homer, district director of Greenville and to Mrs. William M. Loudon, Beaver, council president, to attend. Speakers will be both local and from out of the city.

Mrs. Paul McGill, chairman of the Americanization committee, will be in charge of arrangements, aided by Mrs. Carl Wallace, Mrs. Ivor Davis and Mrs. Walter Miller, with Mrs. C. C. Horner, Mrs. George Speed, Mrs. Jack Wilson, Mrs. William Reynolds and Mrs. Simon Hartman in charge of the menu.

March 10 the auxiliary will entertain at cards, with Mrs. Carl Wallace, Mrs. James Cooper and Mrs. Edgar McKee in charge of the card rooms and Miss Lily Hartman, Mrs. Frank Bush and Mrs. Walter Miller serving the refreshments.

MRS. HERB MCGOUN HOSTESS TO CLUB

The 1914 Book Club members were delightfully entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Herb McGoun on Lincoln avenue. The guests were served a delicious luncheon at one o'clock at a table prettily decorated in the season's tones. Covers marked for all members and two guests, Mrs. E. A. Fenton and Mrs. H. T. Frushour.

The balance of the social period was spent informally and the usual exchange of books occurred at this time.

In two weeks Mrs. S. P. Smith on Wallace avenue will receive the club at her home.

LADIES OF LIONS TO MEET TUESDAY

An interesting February meeting has been planned by the Ladies of the Lions club for Tuesday evening, February 9, at the home of Mrs. George Smith, 913 DuShane street.

"Every success in life comes from sympathy and cooperation and love" is the theme of the evening and Mrs. T. M. Shaffer will have a paper on "Edison," Mrs. T. Lloyd Nixon will speak on "Lincoln" and Mrs. A. H. Borland on "Washington."

Committee Meets.
The dance committee of Hadassah met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. F. Kohn, Moody avenue, and plans were furthered for the annual dance, which will be held some time in March in the Field club house.

The executive board of Hadassah will meet Tuesday evening, February 9, in the home of Mrs. Sam Edelstein, Norwood avenue.

Music Club Practice Notes.
The practice session scheduled for Music club members on Monday evening in the Y. W. C. A. has been postponed until further notice.

Current Events '23.
Mrs. R. T. Galbreath of 206 Leasure avenue will receive members of the Current Events of '23 Monday afternoon in her home.

Ritz Club
Mrs. J. Bonjarringo entertained members of the Ritz Club in her home on Glass street Thursday evening. Dancing, bingo and chat were pastimes, prize winners being Mrs. Fred Farnoe, Mrs. Kirk Guckert, Mrs. Anthony Panella and Mrs. James Barlett.

Mrs. H. Hartman who is visiting from Cleveland, O., was a special guest of the occasion.

The next meeting will take place at the residence of Mrs. Frank Barone.

D. U. V. To Meet
Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War will meet in the City Building Tuesday evening, February 9, at 7 o'clock, followed by a card party for members and friends, at 8:15.

MR. HOOVER'S MOVE AGAINST HOARDED MONEY

PRESIDENT HOOVER, having laid the groundwork of prosperity by his recommendations of constructive legislation, has now turned his attention to the evils of hoarded money; and with characteristic energy is urging the people of the country to join in a movement to bring it from its hiding place. With this end in view he has called a conference of representative men and women to meet with him in Washington for the purpose of creating a national organization to further the anti-hoarding campaign.

It is not possible to imagine a more timely movement, and we can not conceive of anyone who could lead it with more prestige, authority and success than the President of the United States. The statement he has issued is so strong and so pertinent that it is not easy to improve upon. We have heard of a thousand cures for the present depression, but few of them will compare for effectiveness with the proposition to bring hoarded money back into the channels of industry. And the word hoarding in this connection means precisely what it indicates, a hiding away such as is practiced by misers. The method makes little difference—whether the money be placed in an old stocking, under a mattress or in a safety-deposit box. In each case it is useless to the owner, and it works a real hardship on the community.

The president declares that hoarded money amounts to over a billion, three hundred million dollars. But the most serious part of it is that this hidden and unused money means destruction of five to ten times that amount of credit. "Credit," he says, "is the blood-stream of our economic life, and its restriction or destruction cripples the revival and expansion of agriculture, industry, commerce and employment. Every dollar returned from hoarding to circulation means putting men to work. It means help to agriculture and to business." Every word of this is true; and it is equally true that senseless hiding of money makes it more useless—during that period—than waste paper.

During the war everybody co-operated for the general good, and today all are called upon by the president to join in winning another war—the war against depression. If every community in the land will join in this movement the results will soon be evident, asserts the Philadelphia Inquirer. The most wonderful thing that could happen would be to spend part of this unused money in buying useful and needed things. But that is another phase of the problem. The plea now is merely to put the money in circulation. Money deposited in the banks or savings funds is circulated. These institutions do not pile silver and gold and bank notes in their vaults. All forms of currency are put to work, and when money is given work to do it follows as the morning does the night that men will have work to do.

IMPERIALISM

This disturbing business in the Far East finds in the world only two governments openly cherishing imperialistic ambitions. The militarized government of Japan is one. The other is the "business" government of France. In neither country is the great body of citizenry hungry for war.

Prof. Oswald Spengler, the distinguished German scholar and historian and authority on world economic trends, sees these two powers feeding their imperialistic appetites upon helpless China. In his opinion the present drive by the Japs against China is a prelude to a gradual partition of Chinese territory by the French and Japanese. The Japs have seized control of Manchuria, the richest region in the north, and the French are powerfully entrenched in Southern China.

Economically and industrially, China probably would benefit from such a partition, although it would mean the end of China as a national and racial entity. France and Japan would develop the territory in order to open up new markets for their domestic goods and to advance their positions in world trade.

The picture is attractive enough for the Japs and French but it leaves the United States, England, Italy and other countries now trading with China out in the cold. They may agree that there are too many fingers in the Chinese pie but none is willing to remove his own to please the others. France and Japan have shown the will but the way has not yet been made clear.

FOOLISH PROJECT

Costly public works undertaken at this time relieve the unemployment situation but great as the need for such relief is it is poor economy when the project serves no other useful purpose than to provide temporary employment to a few hundred men. A government with a $2,000,000,000 deficit cannot afford to spend hundreds of millions for public works that have no more future than a white elephant.

The proposed $400,000,000 Columbia basin irrigation project would provide employment for a large number of men and would add 1,200,000 acres to the arable land of two states, Washington and Oregon, but the expenditure of such a vast sum in public funds needs more justification than that.

The first test should be whether the food requirements of the nation and its foreign markets demand such expansion of the source of supply. Obviously they do not, and for that reason, among others, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde is opposed to the project.

Reclamation of 1,200,000 acres of land for the production of more food at a time when surpluses are the bane of the farmer's existence is as illogical as buying wheat for a farmer who cannot sell what he has. The scheme is made doubly quixotic by the fact that the government can buy fertile farm land for less than it will cost to make the Columbia basin fertile.

The only reclamation the government should engage in now is the reclaiming of the thousands of idle farms for some productive purpose.

New England manufacturers who object because westerners want a tariff on foreign oil do not object at all to a tariff on foreign textiles. Isn't it a funny world?

The allies appear perfectly willing to send Germany a nice moratorium, providing Uncle Sam will pay for it.

What the merchants of the country really need is more buying and less allying.

Early Plowing, Lazy Cats
Vegetables on An Altar
Other People's Business

By MARSHALL MASLIN

A man is doing his early plowing. I see him there in his field. . . . The rain has fallen heavily on his land. It is heavy and dark and soaked. Where the plowshare turns it over I can see it shine. The birds follow him busily, hungrily. He plows a straight furrow. When he sees me looking at him he waves cheerfully at me. . . . Few things are better than the sight of a man plowing deeply, plowing hopefully, in his own field.

Our cat is useless these days. He isn't a kitten any more. A few months ago the first thing he did in the morning was to rub his muzzle affectionately against your face.

Now all he does is sleep before the fire and hang around the icebox. He ought to be ashamed of himself, but he doesn't seem to be.

He is letting us know that, after all, he doesn't belong to us—he belongs only to himself.

Two years ago I passed a hole in the ground that had been a mine. A man told me it wasn't worth working any more, because the cost of getting out the gold would be more than the gold was worth.

Recently I passed that mine again, and men were busy all around it. It WAS worth working, after all.

Frequently, too, we dismiss human beings as useless and not worth bothering about. And sometimes we discover that we are mistaken.

I have seen many altars beautiful with flowers and burning candles. But the most beautiful I have seen was heaped with vegetables.

Last autumn, during the harvest season, there were carrots and turnips and cauliflower and parsley and bright berries, and that altar was rich with gold and red and green. It was richer, still, because it had been made beautiful with homely, usable things that are common in men's lives.

In our town, when I was a boy, a great fuss was made because a fine woman, in her middle years, fell in love with a young fellow whom she had hired to manage her store. They were married, and even the children whispered about it as if it were a grave scandal.

People waited for trouble to ensue, but they defied us and remained happy.

I grew older, I left that town, but I have always wondered about that couple. Recently I heard that they are still married and still happy.

If I learned anything from that, it was that other people usually know what is best for themselves.

RESPONSIBILITY

Have you lost confidence in yourself to the extent that you dare not take a step unless you are sure that it follows the footprints of others or possibly your own usual methods?

When you no longer dare to be venturesome, occasionally you have reached the limit of your usefulness.

Perhaps that is why you fall before the younger men in your establishment?

You fear that errors jeopardize your job. Your boss may be so vehement in denouncing you when you do make an error that you dare not try out any new ideas you have that you think might be of benefit to the firm.

If such be the case your superior is making a mistake.

When employees reach a point where they dare not act upon their own initiative for fear of censure, their activities become very limited. Naturally their originality is stifled and this is not a good thing for business, no matter what kind of business it is.

But it is probable that you give up thinking and acting for yourself too easily.

You are too willing to lean on some excuse to relieve yourself of responsibility.

REVALUATION

Let us be sensible; let us be men! Yesterday never is coming again. Whatever the future for us has in store.

It will be different from what's gone before. The old days are over, the new days are here.

And property's worth what it sells for this year.

Let's be courageous and let's face the truth. Men in their fifties no longer have youth.

To sigh for lost pleasures and customs in vain; Old dogs can never be puppies again. We may wish for the past till our faces turn black.

But the thing that was yesterday never comes back! We have known laughter and sunshine, but now we must brave tempest and trial somehow.

Once life seemed pleasant, but now it is stern. A new set of values today we must learn.

A new code of courage, a rough weather creed. And faith in tomorrow are things that we need.

A local lad fell in love, or what he thought was love. Being timid, he did not know how to successfully woo the lady. He got a book that purported to tell a young man how to win any girl in the world. One chapter in particular appealed to him strongly. It read something like this:

"Do not be forward with her for the first week. On the first meeting, talk about the weather, the latest movie or the current novel. When you leave her that night, do not attempt to kiss her. Do not even touch her in any manner. Be the perfect gentleman, she will appreciate it. On the second night, do about the same. Never be forward. Play the part of a gentleman at all times. Girls love gentlemen."

The young fellow followed the instructions for four straight days. On the fifth, his lady love failed to meet him at the regular trysting place. But she did not fail to meet a flaming young man instead. And this is what she said to the flaming young man:

"Of all the slow pills on the face of the earth, Bill wins the silver cream puffs. Talk about a sap for the ages! What d'ye think of a guy who takes a girl out for four straight nights and does not even attempt to hold her hand, much less kiss her?"

"I think he's a stonehead!" replied the flaming youth. "You'd think he'd at least said to kiss me, wouldn't you?"

"I'll attend to all that now," said the torrid boy. "Come here, baby—I'll make up for what that chump missed!"

Baker's Position On League Puts Him In National Battle

Decision Against Membership For United States As Issue In Coming Campaign Believed To Establish Fact He Is Receptive To Own Candidacy

Newton D. Baker's statement that entry into the League of Nations should not be made an issue in the coming national political campaign is widely interpreted as an indication that he is a potential candidate for the presidential nomination in the Democratic convention. There are differences of opinion as to whether he has strengthened his own position by the declaration.

"It is generally thought," says the SCRANTON TIMES (Dem.), "that those Democratic leaders who oppose the candidacy of Governor Roosevelt will turn at once to the support of Mr. Baker." THE NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE (Rep.) adds that "Mr. Baker's return to the picture will be widely welcomed," and the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR (Ind. Dem.), holding that his announcement "will satisfy the friends of the League," concludes that "it has strengthened him with leaders who feared he might be loyal to the League to the point of impracticality." THE AKRON BEACON JOURNAL (Ind. Rep.) feels that it "has put life into efforts to give the Democratic nomination for President."

Recalling that, editorially, it has "advocated American entrance to the League from the beginning," the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER (Ind. Dem.) continues: "It believes now as thoroughly as it did in 1920 that this nation, which pioneered in the effort to abolish wars, should take its place as a full member of the one going, organized concert now dedicated to the single prime purpose of keeping nations from tearing each other to pieces. We endorse the judgment of Newton D. Baker, however, that to make the League a party question this year would tend to distract attention from other pressing issues more clearly within the field of immediate political action."

Noting interjections of the statement as equivalent to "throwing his hat into the ring," the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION (Ind.) voices the conviction: "It does not appear that he intends to go after delegates, or to make any other move as an active candidate for the nomination." THE MORRISTOWN DOMINION-NEWS (Dem.) declares: "Thousands will take delight in the fact that Mr. Baker deemed it desirable to make the statement that he did. It does not, of course, place him in the field as an active seeker for the nomination, yet it points to the fact that he is in a receptive mood, and that he desires that there shall be no false barriers between himself and the honor which all honorable men are pleased to accept. He now stands before the country and his party as a man whose abilities and whose record in the public service make him one in whom his party and his country should be glad to repose the great responsibilities that are a president's."

Agreeing that "it is difficult to look upon Mr. Baker as less than a receptive candidate," the CLEVELAND NEWS (Rep.) believes that "the nominating and campaigning will unquestionably have to be done by Mr. Baker's friends, if done at all." Quoting Mr. Baker's statement that for entry into the League there must be "an informed and convinced majority sentiment," the ROANOKE TIMES (Dem.) makes the appraisal: "That is clear and explicit and will serve to remove objections to him as the candidate on the ground that it would be most unwise for the party to advocate entrance of the United States into the League. Mr. Baker is in accord with this view, it seems, hence one of the most serious objections that has been raised against him automatically disappears. Democratic leaders will revive discussion of the Olden as a possible head of the ticket. True, he is not seeking the nomination but unquestionably he is one of the strongest and ablest leaders of the party and his name is sure to figure prominently in the deliberations of the national convention in June."

There is doubt that Mr. Baker's position as the League as a party objective is a strategic move. THE FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM (Ind. Dem.) states as to his utterance: "So far as ability and personality are concerned there is no man of presidential caliber politically who is better qualified for the presidency than Newton D. Baker. He knows his way around Washington and through the labyrinths of foreign entanglements. He has been tried under the superlative of executive detail. But he appears to be the poorest politician of them all. His announcement concerning the League of Nations proves that statement. A politician would make it a platform plank and then pad it with two or three coats of presidential hokum. The Baker system is to declare it an educational citizenship is prepared to give politics and ready for use only when an informed citizenship is prepared to give the sure intent of public opinion to this country's membership. It is rather too bad that he has taken that stand. It merely serves to make possible the nomination of a more adroit politician with no more of earned right to party preferment and of native ability."

The declaration "is undoubtedly in a form very different from what the public has been accustomed to have from Mr. Baker," commands the CHARLESTON EVENING POST (Dem.) adding that "it is naturally and doubtless correctly assumed to be an adjustment of himself to the possibilities of a call to lead his party." THE BIRMINGHAM AGE-HERALD (Dem.) declares its significance "is in the fact that he seems to be for soft-pedaling discussion, at least for the time being," and adds that "one wonders why he felt it desirable to fling this sop to Cerberus." THE SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICAL (Ind. Rep.) is convinced that "it must be a blow to some of Mr. Baker's chief advocates" and "it must be that he does not count them as the ones who have a nomination to bestow."

Finding that the League and recent world events have received joint attention the DAYTON DAILY NEWS (Ind. Dem.) says: "Because the League hasn't had the strength to coerce Japan, we spurn the League. It is true that our original rejection of the League was based on the fear that the League would have the coercive power whose lack we now denounce, but logic and consistency seldom rule. If Japan has shredded the League, it has also shredded our own Kellogg-Briand treaty. Shall we, therefore, denounce that? But that is a horse of another color. The upshot of all this is apparently an increased mass antipathy to the League. Politics must deal with facts as they are. America will necessarily, in time, cooperate with the world, probably through the League. This will come through education and growing experience. For the present, that question, along with Mr. Hoover's abolition of poverty, is out of politics."

The BALTIMORE SUN (Ind. Dem.) gives the interpretation: "He prefers to limit our official action to a policy of sympathetic cooperation with all League efforts to promote peace. He would leave the board question of any permanent relationship with the League to the slower processes of study and education. This is a sound and enlightened position. It steers clear of the pettifogging isolationist dogma which has governed most of our relationships with Europe since the close of the Wilson Administration."

Seven Seamen Aboard Sunken Tug Boat Believed Drowned In Atlantic

MASTER OF BARGE REPORTS DISASTER

(International News Service)
CAPE MAY, N. J., Feb. 6.—Airplanes and coast guard cutters today sought trace of seven seamen, believed drowned when the tug Lonic B. Shaw sank in a gale off McCrea Shoals, about five miles from here.

The tug, hammered and buffeted by a gale, sank Thursday night. A barge, Ruth Shaw, which she had in tow, was taken to Gold Spring Harbor by coast guards. Maurice B. Shaw, president of the L. B. Shaw Transportation Company, owners of the boats, was hopeful the crew may have boarded the single lifeboat which the tug carried.

The partial list of those missing, as announced by the Shaw Company, was: Captain John B. Jones, his son, Edward, 22; Jeff Jordan, 30; Port Royal, M.L., chief engineer; and Frank Quigley, a deckhand, Philadelphia.

James Gregory, master of the barge, said he saw the boat sink as the towline parted in the gale which buffeted the two boats.

Concentrate Pennsy Officers In General Headquarters' Move

Business Slackens Here As Departments Are Shifted; Takes All Day

Business at the Pennsylvania railroad's divisional office here marked time almost from early morning until quitting time at noon today as office forces and workmen together switched the building's entire office arrangement around.

Nearly every portion of the two-story general headquarters was affected by the move, prompted, officials said, by the fact that it will increase efficiency. No changes were made in the freight building.

The division's operating force, heretofore located on the ground floor, moved upstairs back of Superintendent H. T. Frushour's clerical office rooms.

The maintenance-of-way department officials and staffs moved out of the second floor to the downstairs.

Other changes brought clerks into a closer contact with the train dispatchers and other operating supervisors will be stationed upstairs.

It was 'off day' for the railroad force as far as routine work was concerned but 'on day' as far as heavy labor goes.

King's Daughters

The Randolph Circle of King's Daughters of the First Methodist church held their business meeting in the church Thursday in connection with the church day.

Reports from the various committees were most gratifying, especially that of the sewing committee, which reported many women sewing at the Jameson Memorial hospital during the month of January.

A George Washington program was given by the Scrap Book Girls and plans were made for the annual tureen dinner at the Deaconess' Home, Phillips street, Tuesday, February 9.

Mission Begins

"Who So Ever Will" was the name chosen for the new mission which will open Sunday at 3 p. m. in the little church at 1411 Wilson avenue.

There will be no preaching but a real Bible study and those attending will bring note books, pencils and Bibles.

Mrs. A. L. Croxton will be in charge of the Sunday afternoon lessons.

Spiritualist Service

Mrs. George Frey announces that Rev. Agnes Berg of Pittsburgh will be the guest speaker and worker at the Church of Spiritual Services Sunday.

Rev. Berg was the speaker a few weeks ago. She will have a circle from 1 to 4 p. m. in the City Building and will give the lecture at 8 p. m.

Y. P. C. U. Group Meets.

District leaders of the Young People's Christian Union, national young people's organization of the United Presbyterian church, met in the city last night to consider monthly business and complete plans for events of the near future.

Chief among the presbyterial matters discussed by the Beaver Valley executive committee when it gathered as the guest of A. Bruce Ewing, Highland avenue, was the annual banquet for society presidents, due to be held at Zelenople on February 11.

The committee paid a fitting farewell to Miss Ruth Maybray, secretary of stewardship activities, who leaves Sunday to enter training for a nurse in Buffalo. Her place has not been filled.

After Miss Margaret Brenner, the president, adjourned the meeting, the remainder of the evening was enjoyed in a social way. Tasty refreshments were served by the host's sisters, Helen and Harriet.

Spiritual Circle

The Church of Spiritual Service will have a circle meeting this evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Mr. George Frey, Addis street, at which time Rev. Agnes Berg, semi-trance worker of Pittsburgh, will be the guest mediator.

League To Be Guests

The Epworth League of the First Methodist church will be entertained Sunday at 4 o'clock at a fellowship service by the members of the Christian Endeavor of the First Christian church, in the Christian church.

C. D. A. Meeting

Members of Court Theresa Irene, Catholic Daughters of America, will meet Monday evening at 8:30 in the Knights of Columbus Home, North Jefferson street.

Important matters will be brought before the members by the grand regent, Mrs. E. J. Suber.

Rachel Rebekahs.

Monday evening the Rachel Rebekah lodge 40 will meet in its hall on East Washington street for the regular business meeting.

Allied Council's Downtown Rally Will Draw Youth

Monday Night's Program To Outline Group's Aims; Speakers Slated

A mass meeting of New Castle's youth to acquaint all with the purposes of the newly-formed Allied Youth council here will take place in the First Christian church on Monday evening, February 8 at 8 o'clock, it was announced today.

Attorney Clarence A. Patterson and the Rev. E. A. Crooks, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church, will be the speakers. Special music by the Griddle Brothers quartet, the Christian Endeavor quartet and the Don Potter's Epworthian orchestra of the Epworth M. E. church will feature.

Howard Reynolds, recently chosen chairman will preside.

Other officers include: Perry Schuler, first vice chairman; Miss Eleanor Brudin, second vice chairman; Miss Margaret Brenner, third vice chairman; H. Wilson, treasurer; Mrs. S. Smith, secretary. The Rev. Rees T. Williams is the spiritual advisor.

The devotions were led by Mrs. Clara Orr and after a brief period of business, games and social conversation filled in the hours, with the evening concluded with a delicious lunch. Mrs. L. R. Reed was a special guest.

February 18 will mark the date of the next meeting, which will be in the form of a national dinner in the home of Mrs. James Plum, East Washington street.

Revival Progresses.

Sunday school night was observed Friday at the Primitive Methodist church, where revival services are in progress.

Increased attendance and renewed interest was noticeable, and the pastor, Rev. W. C. Tyrrell, gave an effective and plain disclosure on "Abandon Yourself."

Sunday will be an eventful day in the church, with the services beginning at 8:30 a. m. with a special prayer service and continuing through the Sunday school service and preaching at 11, when the sermon subject will be "The Cry of a Lost Soul in Hell." The evening service "Bargain Makers and Investors" will be the topic.

Jameson Bible Class

Mrs. Beulah Garner, East Brook, with Mrs. Evelyn Young as joint hostess, entertained the members of the Jameson Bible class of the East Brook Methodist church in her home Friday evening.

The party was in the form of an "old fashioned" meeting and as the guests arrived arrayed in the finery of a by-gone day, much merriment was provoked, and laughter at the antics of the dressed up group resounded throughout the evening.

Hudson Eberhart presided at the business meeting and an election of officers resulted in the same people being retained for the coming year.

Mrs. Eberhart and Mrs. Charles Campbell with a vocal duet and a period of old fashioned games ensued, with Mrs. Eberhart and Mrs. Mary Kelley winning prizes.

The hostess served "old fashioned" refreshments, assisted by Frances and Virginia Garner.

Joint Meeting Of Young People

First Methodist And First Christian Young People Will Meet In Vesper Service

Christian Endeavor day will be observed jointly by the young people of the First Methodist and the First Christian churches Sunday at 4 p. m. in the First Christian church.

A fellowship service will feature the afternoon, followed by light refreshments, then at 6:30 the two groups will hold an Endeavor meeting, led by Miss Ruth Stanley.

It is anticipated that all young people of both churches will be present.

Orangemen Will Install Officers

A group of members of New Castle lodge No. 44, of the Orange Order, will go to Wurttemberg this evening, where the officers of the Orange lodge of that place will be installed by Hugh Shields of this city, deputy for the Wurttemberg lodge, and the assisting members from the New Castle lodge. The local group will make the trip by automobile.

SCOTT W. GUY MAKES DENIAL

Scott W. Guy in a communication to The News states that the report in The News on last Thursday concerning an accident in which his and the car of Mrs. Bessie Mowery of Ellwood City, were involved, was incorrect. The item stated that his machine struck and damaged the Mowery car, whereas, according to Mr. Guy, the Mowery car struck and damaged his machine, while it was parked on East Washington street.

VALENTINE PARTY IS BEING PLANNED BY INSTITUTE CLUB

A Valentine party will be a pleasant event of Thursday, February 18 for members of the Square Circle of the Y. W. International Institute. Plans for the affair were talked over at the business meeting held at the Y. W. M. C. last evening. Special guests at the party will be members of the Friendship Circle.

Impressive Service In Baptist Church

Missionary Society Presents Service Of Beauty On "Great Hearts" Thursday

Sections Four and Five of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church were in charge of the program Thursday evening in the church for the monthly meeting.

Mrs. Nathan Joseph, chairman of Section Four, had charge of the devotional period and business meeting and since "Great Hearts" was the subject to be carried out, Mrs. Anna Maxwell read many verses of scripture with the word heart in. Reports were made of the various committees' work after which Mrs. F. E. Cawthorne took charge.

Mrs. W. H. Luikhart pleased with two piano numbers and Mrs. William Wilson explained the subject and told why it was chosen.

Mrs. Pearl Hockenberry spoke on "Great Hearts in History" and brought out clearly the qualities in the lives of Washington and Lincoln which made them great.

Mrs. W. O. Williams had "Great Hearts in Music" and she gave a story of the life and devotion of Fanny Crosby, the hymn writer, and at intervals her talk was broken by the singing of one of Miss Crosby's hymns, with Mary Coach directing the group of boys and girls singing them; Mrs. S. J. Callahan accompanied a quartet of senior girls, who also sang.

Mrs. F. E. Cawthorne told of "Great Hearts in Service" and she took as her theme the services and devotion of the missionaries at home and abroad, especially the Baptist missionary Andorin Judson and his wife, Anne, whose story was told by Mrs. Frank Hyde.

Mrs. Wilson concluded with "Great Hearts in Love" and she brought out the love, service and sacrifice of the One highest, best and best, Christ; and as she talked the lights were shut off and on a screen was shown a picture of the Christ knocking at a door, and this was in the center of a large heart.

Mrs. G. M. Landis closed this most impressive service with prayer.

Intensive Services At Epworth Church

A Two Weeks' Series Of Evangelistic Services Will Begin Sunday Evening

MY NEW YORK

By Central Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Scientists in a hundred laboratories work ceaselessly on new radio devices, and almost every week when I arrive at WINS to broadcast one of the technicians there informs me of another rumor of fantastic invention or of actual new gadgets in use. The new mikes don't look like the old voice receptacles at all. They are smaller, trimmer, more practical-looking, and they catch overtones never before put on the air.

Have you noticed the new clarity and depth of your set? Possibly you haven't, for the simple reason that radio has reached the point where changes come gradually—creep up on listeners. Television is great magnet for inventors now.

I am told that the reason television hasn't taken great strides and arrived full-blown at commercial stature is that promoters are not sure what to do with it when they have it. The man who points out a convincing, paying field for the sees will prod the development of the device as nothing else could.

Or a war would do it. A man close to the top in radio experimentation has said that a war would bring in a short space of months, undreamed marvels. But even he doesn't want progress at that cost.

The other morning, in a newspaper "morgue", I saw photographs of Constance Bennett, Tallulah Bankhead and Marlene Dietrich spread out together in a row. And I was startled at the sharp resemblance of features among the three. Is it true or am I going pluggie?

WAR CLOUD
A stroll through Chinatown convinces me that the far eastern crisis is real. Not so many satin-coated pedestrians, not so much sales-effort in the shops. One Japanese store in Moti street has been suddenly shuttered and apparently vacated overnight. Over all hangs a sinister shadow—hard to define, but poignant.

And I hear that the tongs, long at each others' throats, have been united by the common enemy into almost one big fraternal order!

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Small Boy Likes Educator's Speech And Says So

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education,
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

It was in the city of Spokane, I had just finished a speech before an assembly of teachers of the Washington State Teachers' association. I was following a crowd to a smaller room where I was to lead a section meeting. We had to pass down a stairs. At the bottom of it, to one side, stood two tow-headed boys. I paused to talk to them and learned that they were brothers, one ten and the other eight years old. Volunteered the older, "I heard your speech, Mister. I heard all of it, and it sure was a good one," to which I sincerely replied, "Thank you; I appreciate your kind words more than if the same had been said by all the grown-up people upstairs."

It was not a bit of oratory, nor an attempt at being humorous. It was a simple description of some of the uncomfortable feelings a pupil suffers in the classroom and some of the things which occur, to cause these painful feelings.

If I made it plain enough for the ten-year-old to grasp it should not have been too hard for the teachers, except that they were teachers and he was a pupil. He very recently, no doubt, had had some of the experiences I described.

Doubtless many of the teachers had forgotten like experiences of their own when they were school children. Having been teachers for several years, it was, moreover, not very easy for them to put themselves through their imagination, into their pupils' places. Nevertheless, it is possible for us teachers, and for us parents to do so. Such achievement is essential to our understanding children.

Anyway, I tried to make those teachers see that because we are human beings we do many things without knowing that we do them, which cause our pupils to experience inward pain. Upon our temptation to employ shame, ridicule and sarcasm, I dwell most, pointing out that we are prone to resort to wisecracks; that we do so not on purpose to injure the child's feelings and destroy his personality, but because we get a "kick" out of it. We do it about as non-consciously as a dog wags its tail.

The injury to the pupil had never come to our attention. Once we realize the harm we do, the suffering we cause by such offense against the sacredness of the child's personality, we shall strive to keep ourselves from sinning further in this manner.

The subject discussed was "Building Personality in the Child at School," which happens to be the title of my latest book. Teachers and parents interested further in this subject might wish to read a series of articles of mine on "Personality Problems" running in the Journal of Education; a second series in American Childhood and a third in Child Welfare Magazine. Teachers, parents and children are invited to send in their questions, problems and criticisms. Please enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope if you want a personal reply.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Garry C. Myers, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Punishments and Rewards" and "Fear."

Ohio Bridge Work Requires Pennsy Engineering Job

Division Office Here Planning Niles Depot Change; Starts Shortly

The immediate construction of a half-million dollar bridge job at Niles, O., for which a contract was reported to have been let, will cause considerable work for the engineering department at the Pennsylvania railroad's division building here.

Division Engineer J. S. Gillum said the bridge is to be constructed over the Mahoning river and the Pennsylvania right-of-way, replacing an inadequate structure and at the same time eliminating a grade crossing. Its cost will approximate $275,000 while accompanying jobs will likely boost it to the half-million mark.

The Pennsy proposes to re-lay its present tracks and make alterations to the Niles station platform, located directly to the side of where the span will cross over.

Campbell Plans To Go East To Speak For E. & A. Men

Making his second trip to Philadelphia in the interests of telegraphers of the Erie & Ashabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad, L. M. Campbell, chairman of the E. & A. telegraphers' committee, will leave Sunday for a conference between road executives and telegraphers' spokesmen at Philadelphia.

Mr. Campbell will speak with a number of others, who jointly comprise the general committee of the telegraphers on matters affecting wages for 1932. The recent Chicago wage session will be reviewed.

A similar meeting occurred at the Pennsy's Broad street station office in Philadelphia not so long ago. This meeting will consume all of Monday.

Registrations For First Aid Class To Close

Enrollment Must Be Made Before February 13, It Is Announced Today

Announcement was made this morning by Ralph F. Davis, chairman of first aid for the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, that the registrations for the first aid class which will get under way during the latter part of the month, will be closed on February 13. After that date, no further registrations will be received.

So far, 42 persons, men and women, have enrolled for the course, which will cover the field of first aid to the injured in a thorough manner.

More are expected to enroll but it is imperative that the number who will take the course be known so that supplies can be secured.

Mr. Davis is now lining up the details of the course and securing the instructors. As soon as the registration ends, a meeting of the class members will be held and the meeting nights chosen.

The course will run through April when examinations will be given. Certificates will be awarded all who complete the course by the American National Red Cross, showing that the recipients are qualified to do first aid work.

Mt. Vernon Stamp Cancellation Offer To Draw New Castle Mail

New Castle's stamp collectors, like others, will be given opportunity to secure the February 22nd postmark of the Mt. Vernon, Va., post office on mail matter they send there before February 19, government officials announced thru a bulletin sent here today. February 22 will be the 200th anniversary of Washington's birth.

Letters mailed to Mt. Vernon should bear the stamps of the Washington bi-centennial series. February 22 will bring the opening of the nation-wide celebration of the bi-centennial.

The post office department is co-operating with the Washington bi-centennial commission, which has provided a special cachet depicting Wakefield, Va., the birthplace of Washington, for the mail.

Collectors who send mail to Mt. Vernon should mark "For February 22 Cancellation" on the outside cover.

How Quinsy May Follow Tonsillitis

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Acute tonsillitis probably is the commonest type of sore throat. And it is a real disease. The patient usually is a good deal sicker in the early stages than a patient with diphtheria. The fever may be very high. Swallowing is simply torture.

It is a peculiar disease in that the infection picks out the follicles of the tonsils alone. Little pockets of pus can be seen embedded in the tonsils, while the rest of the throat is apparently uninfected. It makes one think that there must be a special and particular germ which causes it, although a great variety of germs have been cultured from the infected crypts.

Treatment is not highly important except to watch out for the complications. The most serious of these is quinsy. It consists in an extension of the infection out from the tonsils into the tissues of the palate and the throat. The duration of tonsillitis is about five days. If, after the fifth day, a patient is still uncomfortable, the throat swollen, speech and swallowing difficult and fever still high, quinsy may be suspected. Quinsy is among the four or five most painful and uncomfortable conditions known to man. If you ever have it you will not need the advice to consult a physician. You will want several hundred doctors.

An attack of acute follicular tonsillitis, and all the more the occurrence of recurrent attacks, is an indication for the removal of the tonsils. It is, in fact, the best indication we have for removal of the tonsils. However one may regard the wholesale removal of tonsils, there is no division of opinion in the medical profession that once they have become infected they should go.

The dangers from infected tonsils are so grave and so many that there can be no question about this. The most serious is the possibility of chronic rheumatism from such focal infection, but heart disease, kidney disease, iritis or inflammation of the iris of the eye, eczema and similar skin rashes, are other conditions which may result.

Vincent's angina is another common form of sore throat. Vincent's infection of the gums is commonly known as trench mouth. The queer thing is that all mouths, except those without any teeth, constantly harbor germs of trench mouth. In fact, the first exercise of a class in bacteriology is to detach bits of debris from around the pupils own teeth and demonstrate the presence of Vincent's organisms under the microscope. What changes in the body mechanism allow them to invade the gums and cause trench mouth or invade the tonsils and cause Vincent's angina? We do not know. But such lightings up frequently occur.

In the throat Vincent's angina forms a membrane which is easily mistaken for diphtheria. The significance of a membrane in the throat is that it is an indication for a prompt microscopical examination to decide whether diphtheria is present or not.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diphtheria," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Company Makes Second Payment

Street Car Company Has Now Paid City $4,500 Of $7,500

The city on Friday received $3,000 from the New Castle Electric railway as the second payment of all claims against the company in Hamilton street, Long avenue and Beaver street. The company will make another payment of $3,000 about March 1, it is reported. The first payment made amounted to $1,500. The city desired the company to remove its tracks and put the streets in condition. Following conferences the council and street car company officials compromised on $7,500, the city to do the work.

Director Treser of the department of streets and improvements stated today that as soon as weather conditions become favorable the tracks will be removed and the streets reconditioned.

Motor Club Plans For Big Meeting

Members of the New Castle Motor Club are preparing for the annual meeting of the club which will take place on February 11 in The Castle. Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Ben G. Eynon will be the chief speaker of the evening while an added feature will be Cy Hungerford, well known Pittsburgh cartoonist who will give the members an illustrated talk, illustrating his subjects as he goes along.

American Mission In Shanghai Near Scene Of Shelling

No Damage Caused By Bursting Shells And No Protest
Has Been Lodged

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, Feb. 6.—A shell fire fell today near the premises of the American Southern Episcopal Mission in the International Settlement here. No damage was caused and no protest was lodged with the American consulate.

American consular authorities and officials of the American Presbyterian Mission said they knew nothing of reports that the premises of this mission had been ransacked by troops.

Psychologist At Italian Church

Young Men Of Congregation
Will Give Supper In Honor
Of Dr. Giardini

A meeting of special interest for our Italian-American citizens will be held tomorrow evening at the Methodist Episcopal church, corner of South Mill and Phillips streets, where Dr. Giovanni I. Giardini of Pittsburgh will give an address on the mentality of criminals.

Dr. Giardini holds the office of psychologist in the western penitentiary. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nunziato Giardini of South Mill street, and was a member of the church where he comes to speak.

Several of the local Italian societies will send delegations to the meeting at which Dr. Giardini speaks, and seats will be reserved for them. The meeting begins at 7:30. After brief devotions conducted by the pastor of the church,
Attorney Frank O. Moretti will preside.

At Mr. Moretti's suggestion the young men of the congregation will have a supper this evening at six o'clock. Dr. Giardini will be the honor guest and give an informal address.

Arrangements for the supper have been made by members of the church school senior classes, of which the deacons, Miss Ida Schnackel, and Mrs. Alice Fusco, a sister of Dr. Giardini, are teachers.
Mrs. Ida Mantozzi, Mrs. Donald
Mooney, Mrs. Amerigo Moretti,
Miss Anna Morelli and the Misses
Metta and Eugene Morelli report a response from the young men of the congregation.

No arrests had been made at the noon hour today by Pennsylvania railroad police, trailing the switch tamperer who wrecked a passenger train near the Shenango Pottery on Wednesday night.

We've made no arrests but we're working hard on the case, was Captain of Police W. E. Gastinger's only comment.

Several clues to the identity of the culprit, whose malicious tinkering endangered the lives of nearly 40 passengers, have been established.

Founders' Day
Bethel A. M. E. church is planning a celebration in honor of Founders' day, which will be held Sunday, February 14, at 8 p. m., commemorating the birth of Richard Allen, the founder of the A. M.
E. church and its first bishop.

The A. M. E. church is the oldest Negro organization, being 116 years old. It was formed by Richard Allen, Daniel Cooper and others withdrawing from St. George Methodist church at Philadelphia and forming a church of their own, with a blacksmith shop as the meeting place.

CHILDREN STOPPED

In the case of the commonwealth against Logan Tarazuk, District Attorney John Powers presented a petition of Julia Kurlik to court this morning asking for a rule on Tarazuk to show cause why he has not complied with an order of court made on December 9th, 1927 the court made an order directing Tarazuk to pay $5 per week for the support of his minor children, Mike, Louis and Rosie Tarazuk. The petitioner, who is the former Mrs. Tarazuk, and mother of the children, claims that payments were stopped in April, 1928, and that none have since been received.

Judge Hildebrand granted a rule
returnable on February 22nd.

Local Man Eats Fifteen Pies In Seventeen Minutes

Standard Sanitary Pottery Employe Captures Wager After Eating Big Lunch

After eating five sandwiches and an apple as his regular lunch, John Smith of Adams street, an employe of the Standard Sanitary Pottery proceeded to down fifteen pies in seventeen minutes to capture a wager made with fellow employes.

According to the terms of the wager Smith was to pay for the pies himself if he was unable to fulfill the agreement, otherwise, his fellow employes paid for the pies and a small sum of money besides.
Of course, the pies were not the big regulation pies, being the small five-cent variety, but even at that, fifteen of them would fill up one's stomach and would leave little room for a half-glass of water to wash down the crumbs.

One of Smith's fellow employes has declared he can eat thirty of the pies and Smith is planning to compete with him, and recovers from yesterday's experience.

Titans To Play 'Gators Tuesday

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 6.
—Facing the great undefeated Allegheny college five on the home floor
Tuesday night, Coach John Lawther's Westminster college basketball team realizes that it will have to play inspired ball to win.

The Methodists have won 12 games and lost none so far this season, and loom as one of the strongest college fives ever developed in the tri-state district.

All seats have been reserved for the Allegheny contest, and a large number of reservations for seats are already in. This game is the high spot of district interest for the week and the winner will have strong claims for district recognition.

Over Four Million Is New Castle's Burden If War Debts Are Cancelled

Statisticians Figure Cost Of $90 To Every Person In State

United States Holds About 11,000,000,000 In Obligation By Foreign Nations

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 6.—Pennsylvania will have a "pocket-book" interest in the reparations conference at Lausanne in April or May. Revision downward or complete cancellation of war debts would throw a heavy burden on taxpayers of the state for years to come.

Statisticians of the government have estimated that cancellation of war debts owed by the world powers to the United States would cost every person in Pennsylvania approximately $90 sans interest. Downward revision would be inversely proportionate to that figure.

The United States, it was reported, holds upwards of $11,000,000,000 in foreign obligations and cancellation would throw the burden squarely on the shoulders of the taxpayer.

Approximate payment of cities in event of complete cancellation follows:

Ambridge, $1,818,090; Bradford, $1,698,000; Canonsburg, $1,128,000; Charleroi, $1,012,050; Clearfield, $829,000; Ellwood City, $1,117,000; Erie, $10,432,000; Homestead, $1,814,000; Indiana, $860,000; Kane, $561,700.

New Castle, $4,383,000; Oil City, $1,984,000; Pottsville, $833,400; Ridgway, $556,800; Sharon, $2,327,000; Tyrone, $819,000; Uniontown, $1,759,000; Vandergrift, $1,032,000.

Ashland, $644,000; St. Marys, $131,500; Monongahela, $781,760; Allentown, $8,284,000; Bethlehem, $5,199,500; Bristol, $1,062,000; Chester, $5,306,000; Devonport, $411,000; Easton, $3,089,000; Harrisburg, $7,225,500.

Honesdale, $493,000; Huntingdon, $697,000; Jersey Shore, $521,000; Lancaster, $5,453,000; Lebanon, $2,301,000; Lehigh, $584,000; Lewisburg, $1,194,000; Mauch Chunk, $288,000; Norristown, $3,225,000; Philadelphia, $17,798,700.

Philadelphia, $323,000; Renovo, $351,500; Scranton, $12,670,000; Shamokin, $1,824,000; Stroudsburg, $534,000; Wilkes-Barre, $7,785,000.

How the payments revert on the American people is revealed in a close study of the reparations by experts. The entire $11,000,000,000 which Europe owes the United States was borrowed by the United States government from the American people during and after the world war, it was claimed. The United States in turn loaned it to the Allies.

Exactly $11,229,968,706 was said to have been due the United States in war debts on July 1, 1931. It is said that the taxpayers still hold liberty bonds and government obligations for much of that huge sum.

Cancellation would wipe out any possible payment of the war debt from the Allies to the United States. The government however, would be forced to return the money to the bondholders and raise the sum by some method of taxation.

In some quarters it was estimated that it might possibly take the government 50 years or more to retire the obligations in event of cancellation.

Sheriff Bell To Observe Nintieth Birthday Event

Will Be An Event Of February 13 At The St. James Hotel In San Diego

The many friends here of former Sheriff Samuel Bell of this county will be interested in learning that he will observe his nineteenth birthday on February 13 at St. James Hotel, San Diego, California, where he has been making his home for many years. On this occasion as for many years past, his friends in San Diego will tender him an informal reception, while those of his friends here seeking to make him happy will mail him birthday greeting cards. He has not been here since the state encampment of the G. A. R. and no doubt will be glad to hear from all his friends.

district, but of late years from San Diego, Cal. Funeral services were held from the First Presbyterian church of Beaver Falls. Burial was made in Salem, O., on Sunday.

Miss Laura Marshall, Miss Hazel Tanner and Clyde Martsoff are named delegates to accompany two flags to the Presbyterian church, Ambridge, February 20th. The flags were won by the Church of the Nazarene and the above named church for the largest delegation at the Sunday school rally, district No. 1, at Edgewood Park, each church having the flags for six months duration.

May Day Festival Of Girl Reserves Is Being Planned

Taggart Field Will Be Gathering Place For Club Girls In Early May

If the tentative plans materialize, the Girl Reserve clubs of New Castle will have a splendid May Day Festival this year, on the grounds of the Benjamin Franklin junior high school.

A popularity contest will be staged in each of the Girl Reserve clubs to decide who the May Queens will be. The queens will have their court on the field sometime early in the month of May and each will have twelve or more attendants from her own club. A splendid program is being planned in their honor. There will be an elaborate band demonstration in which all the school bands in the city will participate. There will be dancing groups to represent various countries studied by the Franklin club during the past semester, and some forty or more tiny fairy-folk, prospective Girl Reserves from the grade schools.

Other plans include a May Pole, invitation to all friends, parents and relatives to fill the grand stands, and there will be no admission nor reserved seat.

Nothing at all definite decided as yet, according to Miss Marian Wilson, Girl Reserve Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. this morning, but elaborate plans for the affair will be made later.

Award To Parents By Compensation Board Is Upheld

Judge Hildebrand Hands Down Decision In Case Of Mr. and Mrs. John Holsappel

In the case of John and Agusta Holsappel against the Great Lakes Stages, Incorporated and the Century Indemnity Company, Judge R. L. Hildebrand handed down an opinion Friday in which he affirmed the finding of an award by a referee and confirmation by the Workmen's Compensation board, and directed judgment accordingly.

The point at issue was whether or not Frank Holsappel, who was fatally injured while in the employ of the Great Lakes Stages, was a contributor to the support of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Holsappel.

Testimony before the referee had shown that Frank was a machinist and had been employed in the shops of the Great Lakes Company at Scranton, Pa., when he was injured on December 24, 1929. He died from the effects of his injuries on January 29, 1930. The funeral and other expenses had been paid by the Great Lakes Company, but a claim for compensation under the Workmen's Compensation act was put in by the parents.

Testimony in their behalf showed that Frank had regularly sent home a portion of his wages for the support of his parents. Exceptions were taken to the board's finding in behalf of the parents, and the case was appealed to court. The decision entitles the parents to the compensation fixed by the board.

Oriental Rumpus Turns Talk In Many Of City's Schoolrooms; Class Study Courses Unchanged

No particular shift in the study of geography, history or civics students in New Castle's junior high schools, from regular discussion of Oriental topics, as a result of the Far East crisis, has come about, it has learned today.

However, it was understood that several principals of schools were considering a temporary change in their school study schedules to allow pupils to concentrate their attentions now on Japan and China.

Pupils Show Interest
At the George Washington junior high school, the 8A classes which ordinarily study Asia and the Orient at this time, were reported to be deeply absorbed in the troublesome developments.

GETTING AHEAD

(How Well Known Persons Achieved Success)

BY THE SUCCESS REPORTER

HARTLEY ANDERSON

Head Coach of Notre Dame.

QUESTION: Mr. Anderson, what makes a football team great?

ANSWER: First, team play. Eleven men work—one for all and all for one.

Selfishness must be forgotten.

—self-sacrifice must be forgotten.

Team play must be as a unit.

Each individual player has a certain assignment and everyone must carry out his part before the play will work.

It has been shown that in each game, at some time or other, when every man has carried out his part smoothly, the ball carrier goes over for a touchdown.

When each man does his assignment, it is known as the perfect play, and results go on the scoreboard.

News Of The World As Told In Pictures

To Evacuate Americans From Nanking

While the four great powers, the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy, are seeking to bring about a cessation of hostilities between Chinese and Japanese forces in the Far East, the warring Orientals continue to exchange shells, bullets and bombs at sporadic intervals. Owing to the Japanese threat against Nanking, American citizens are preparing to leave the city for Shanghai.

Top photo above is the United States destroyer Simpson, which is standing by in Nanking to evacuate Americans if necessary. Lower panel shows how U. S. sailors assisted their fellow country-men and women when they were compelled to leave Nanking during a previous disturbance.

Blizzard Victim and Survivor

Groping his way through a blinding snowstorm, with both hands and feet frozen, Donald Higgins (right) of Winchester, Mass., reached the base station of the Mount Washington, N. H., railroad and gasped out a tale of how he with two companions, Ernest McAdams (left) of Stoneham, Mass., and Joseph Chadwick, of Woodburn, Mass., were lost in a blizzard on Twin Mountain. Search was at once started for the two missing youths, but it is feared they are dead, as old-timers in the search posse declare no one could have survived exposure in the severe mountain blizzard.

Hope for Peace

The appointment of Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura as commander of the Japanese forces in Chinese waters is seen as the first rift in the war clouds that hover in the Far East. Admiral William V. Pratt, U. S. Chief of Naval Operations, declared that the new Japanese leader is a statesman as well as a sailor, and if anyone can clear up the delicate situation it is Nomura.

Hockey Battle of Olympians

There was action aplenty in the first Olympic hockey match between the United States and Canadian teams on the opening day of the international contests at Lake Placid, N. Y. This photo was made just before the Canadian team scored the goal that brought victory to the Maple Leaf team. Two Americans are making frantic efforts to stop the Canadian sharpshooter who is making an onslaught on their goal. Canadians won, 2-1, after playing an extra period.

Connoisseurs Disagree On Yardstick of Beauty

Solons of Pulchritude Enumerate Qualifications Required for Glorification in Famous Stage Productions.

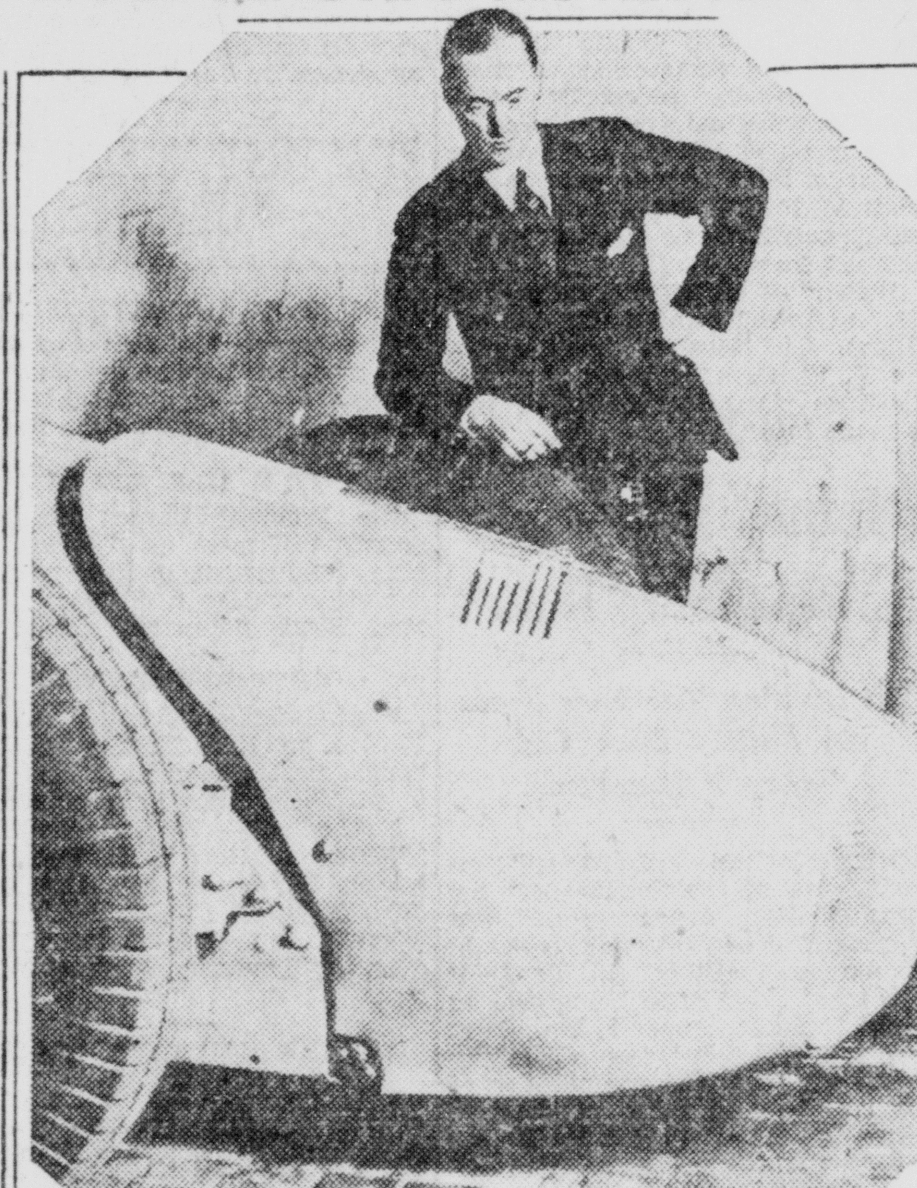

Though New York's three great connoisseurs of feminine loveliness disagree on their precepts of beauty, they all see eye to eye in one respect, which is that perfect legs are essential. Florenz Ziegfeld, impresario of the famous Follies, not only demands candidates for glorification be in possession of a perfect physique and face to match, but also insists on personality. Perhaps it is this last attribute that is responsible for so many of Mr. Ziegfeld's graduates marrying into the millionaire class. George White, producer of the "Scandals," which are not as naughty as the name implies, is not too insistent on physical perfection, but he demands that his showgirls have "charm." But for all his protestations, White has never featured a bevy of scrawny, knock-kneed women in any of his shows. The third solon of pulchritude is Earl Carroll, whose "Vanities" have made him famous. Carroll has a rigid standard of beauty. He demands perfection in form and face and does not care anything about charm, magnetism or brains. He is also a believer in beauty unadorned, a fact that has caused him no little inconvenience, certain minions of officialdom not seeing the matter from Carroll's viewpoint. Photo-diagrams above provide a good beauty yardstick by two of the foremost glorifiers of the American girl.

HOME TOWN REMEMBERS CROSBY

The first sweetheart of Bing Crosby, popular radio crooner, his mother, was among the admirers to sign the big Valentine which Bing's home town, Spokane, Wash., is sending to him, in New York. Hundreds of Spokane girls signed the huge red heart that is spanned by a map of the United States and a bar of Crosby's theme song, with hearts for notes.

GIVE COMIC VALENTINE PARTY TO CHEER FRIENDS IN THIS TIME OF GRIEF

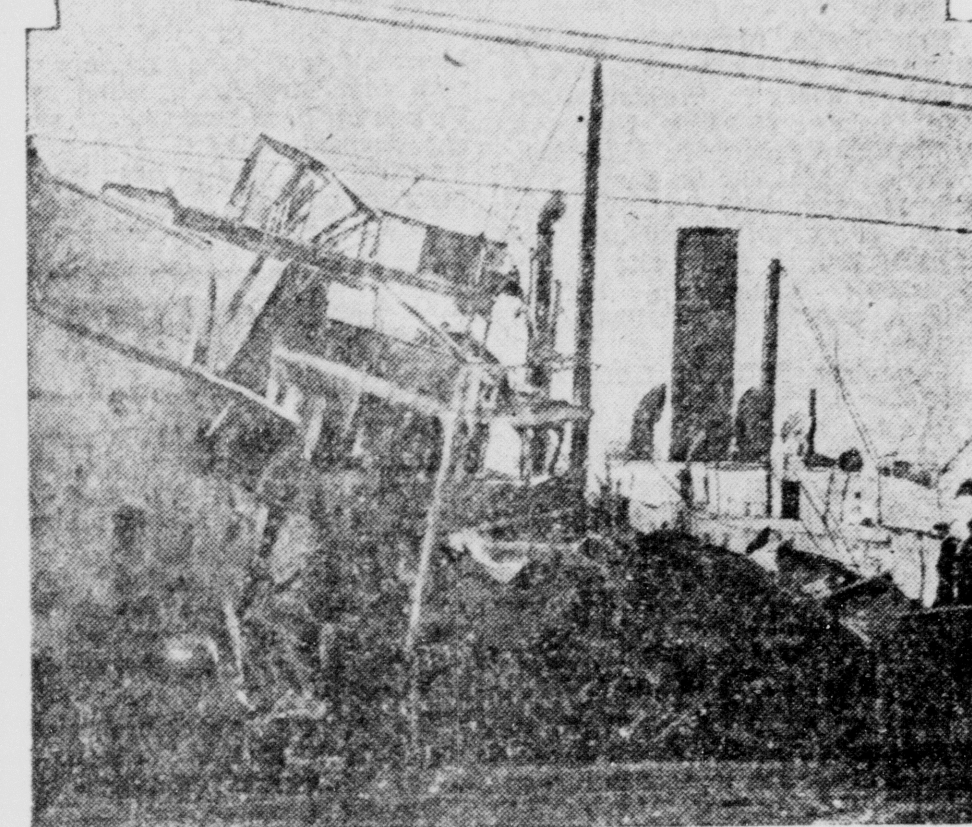

With wars, rumors of wars, depression and whatnot on the boards for the suffering world to play, why not cheer yourself and your friends up with a comic valentine party? Can't afford it? Of course you can. Make your costume of paper, if need be, serve the most inexpensive of refreshments, popcorn and molasses candy, and have a good time. Forget heartaches. Four costumes are pictured as well as a table set in gala array for serving more formal refreshments than those aforementioned—coffee and sandwiches, heart-shaped cakes served with special St. Valentine's Day ice cream. But don't hesitate to give the party just because you can't afford silver and flowers, ice cream and expensive fancy cakes. Peanut butter sandwiches are cheap and delicious, so are jam and cheese fillings, fresh fruits and numerous other things which your guests will eat with great gusto.

Where Seventeen Died in Blast

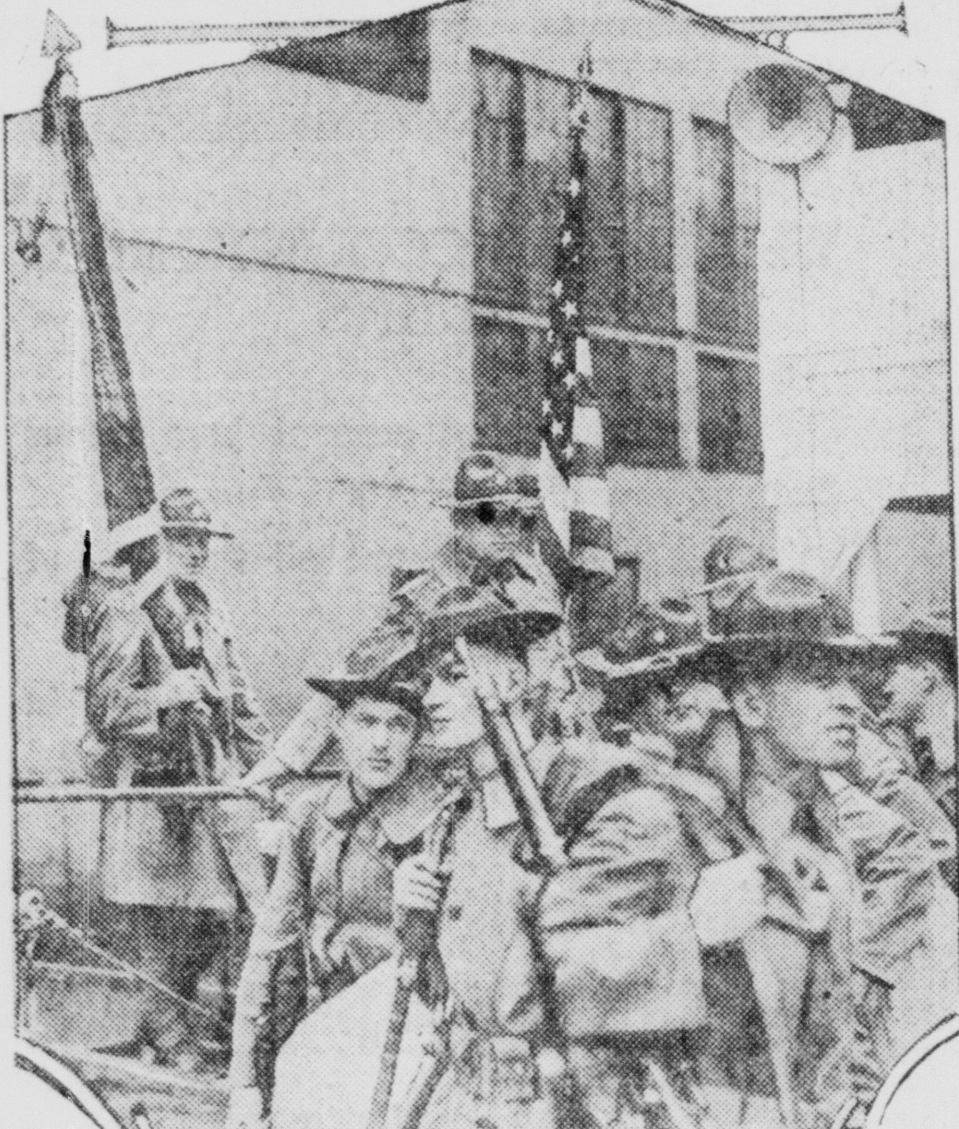

Almost totally destroyed by an explosion, the oil tanker Bidwell, is shown at her pier at Chester, Pa., following the disaster that cost the lives of seventeen workers. Twenty others were injured in the blast and fire that followed. The tanker had just finished discharging her cargo of gasoline and members of the crew were cleaning a hold when the explosion wrecked the craft.

In Hands of the Enemy

Hands bound behind their backs and herded into an improvised prison camp, where they were guarded by their Japanese captors, Chinese prisoners of the 1927 Sino-Japanese disorders are shown. The same scene is being duplicated during the present crisis at Shanghai, where Japanese are in control of the main portion of the native section in the great Chinese seaport. Note the nose masks worn by the Japanese as a protection against infection.

Off to Hawaiian War Games

Starting off for Hawaii for the great army and navy maneuvers—and also to be a little closer to the storm-center where some of the 30th Infantry Regiment, U. S. Army, are shown boarding the army transport St. Mihiel at San Francisco. The battle fleet sailed from San Pedro at the same time—taking provisions and ammunition for one year, in case of emergency.

Womens Club To Have Washington Program Tuesday

Everything To Be Carried Out In Old Colonial Customs At Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—The Women's Club of Ellwood City has planned to celebrate Washington's birthday in a novel form at their regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at the Elks clubhouse. An appropriate program has been arranged for the occasion and will attract much attention from the community. The affair will be an open meeting. The feature of the day will be a short play entitled "When Martha and George returned." The characters are Harold Burns, Virginia Kerr MacCallister, Mrs. H. S. Gold and Mrs. Bert Wallace. After the program a Washington tea will be served by the social committee, who will be attired in costume.

At this time Mrs. Adele Eggers Furniss will present a program of songs which were composed in that bygone day. Clarence S. Moore, well-known tenor, of Pittsburgh, and John Kuzemarski, local violinist, will participate in this event. Mrs. Roland Haines will preside at the piano. Mrs. Catherine Charles, local librarian, will read some interesting facts on the life of Washington. The members of the club are requested to bring some donations to this meeting so that the club may take care of some needy families.

MacMurdo To Be Feted Feb. 22

Jock Sutherland To Be Principal Speaker In Honoring Local Boy

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—Jim MacMurdo, a product of Ellwood City and one of Pitt's all-time star players, will be the guest of his home town on February 22 at his home on the corner of Third and Washington streets. This morning by Dr. C. W. Hayes, chairman of the committee in charge of the celebration. Final plans are not yet complete, but it is definite that Dr. John Bain "Jock" Sutherland, Pitt coach, will be the principal speaker on the occasion. Several of Jim's teammates will also be in attendance. The community is proud of the distinction MacMurdo has given it and takes this method to show their appreciation of his fine character and ability.

Dorthea Reed Is Wed On Thursday

Marriage To Paul Donnell Takes Place At Mercer On Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. James Reed of this city announce the marriage of their daughter, Dorthea, to Paul Donnell of Kennard, which took place on February 4 at Mercer. Rev. Claude Donley was the officiating minister. The young couple were attended by Ralph Callahan of Greenville and Miss Goldie Morrow of Ellwood City. After a wedding dinner at the bride's home, the newlyweds left at once for Pittsburgh where they will make their home. Mr. Donnell is employed there.

S. of V. Auxiliary Meets On Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—The Sons of Veterans Auxiliary No. 165 met in the Schweizer Hall last night for their regular meeting. A delicious tureen supper was held in honor of Miss Thelma Sartter, who is the National Chief of Staff of the Auxiliary.

After the meeting and supper the remainder of the evening was enjoyed with cards at the conclusion of which Mrs. Margaret Kelley and Mrs. Burdett King received the first and low awards respectively for women. Mr. Fitzgerald and Arthur Duncan were the winners for the men. Mrs. Hildebrand of New Castle won the bingo prize. The next meeting of the organization will be announced later.

CLASS MEETING.
ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—Miss Jane Blinn delightfully entertained the members of the Sunshine class of the North Sewickley Presbyterian church last evening when they met at her home in Marion township for their regular monthly meeting.

The devotional service was conducted by Miss Audrey Deemer, who was also in charge of the business meeting. Arrangements were completed to hold a Valentine party, Friday evening, February 12, at the church.

After an informal social period of guessing games and contests, a delicious collation was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Freeda Blinn. St. Valentine novelties predominated in the appointments. On Friday, March 4, the class will be entertained at the home of Miss Audrey Deemer at North Sewickley.

J. L. Bingle of Celia was a business visitor at this city today.

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—A most active week will be experienced by the Ellwood City Boy Scout District who will begin the celebration of the twenty-second anniversary of the Boy Scout Movement, Sunday evening with a union service in the M. E. church of this city. Rev. R. H. Little will be the speaker. On Monday evening the Methodist Troop No. 14 will be the hosts to all other Scout troops in the city to join in their meeting and listen to the National Radio broadcast. On Thursday evening all scouts are invited to participate in the indoor contest to be held at the Sheldahl auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Man Held In Jail For Bus Station Holdup Has Alibi

Cratty, Alias Carr, In County Bastile For Harmony Terminal Holdup

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—Victor Cratty alias Victor Carr now in the county jail at New Castle after having been held up by Chief of Police Morrison of Ellwood City and charged with having held up a clerk in the Harmony bus station in Ellwood City Jan. 24, escaping with $100, denies he had anything to do with the robbery. His alibi will be that he was eating at the Walford Restaurant in New Castle during the time the robbery is alleged to have been perpetrated in the bus station, it is said.

Alderman Van Gorder announced today that Cratty will receive a hearing before him on Monday on a charge of highway robbery. The information was sworn out by Chief Morrison, who arrested the man. Cratty is alleged to have lived in Pittsburgh, but is a native of this district.

The bus station clerk, H. E. Crooks was held up at about 10:20 p. m. when the robber entered the station and brandished a revolver. After scooping up cash in the ticket money drawer he ran from the building, entered a waiting automobile and disappeared.

Bungalow Burns To Ground Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—An occupied one-story frame bungalow on the New Castle road was nothing but smoldering ashes this morning as a result of a mysterious fire which broke out about 12:10 this morning.

The house is located on the road near Baldwin Stop and was occupied a week ago by Fred Jones and family. The local fire department was called and prevented the fire spreading to nearby garage. The flames had made too much headway to enable the firemen to cope with it satisfactorily. They were hampered in their fight by lack of water. They were forced to use chemicals. The loss was estimated at about $3,500. The Wein-gartner Realty Company are agents for the home.

Ellwood Youth Is Held For Larceny

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—John McCauley, 19, Lawrence avenue, Ellwood City, awaited Warren, O., police who will take him from the New Castle police station to face charges of larceny for his alleged theft of an automobile from Warren on November 25, 1931. The car, a coupe, belonging to Charles Reed of Warren, was found in Wampum. Constable Ray Talley of Wampum arrested McCauley last night. Authorities are seeking an alleged accomplice in the theft, one Bennie Blakeley of Warren.

SEW FOR HOSPITAL.
ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—Ten members of the Mary Braden Circle of the Wurttemberg United Presbyterian church gathered Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Donald Hepler, Wurttemberg, and devoted the afternoon hours to sewing on garments for the Columbia hospital at Wilkesburg, which is supported by the United Presbyterian churches. They plan to meet again next Thursday afternoon to complete the work.

AT CATHEDRAL MEETING.
ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—A number of local people attended the address given by Smedley D. Butler on Conditions in China and Japan last night at the Cathedral in New Castle. Among those attending from this city were D. A. Evans, Paxton Pike, Martin Burt, J. Carl Gallagher, Rev. J. E. Caughey, Dallas Houk and Edward McDaniel.

Relief Committee To Held Meeting Monday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—The Relief Committee will hold an important meeting on Monday evening in Legion rooms on Sixth street. The members of the J. Wilbur Randolph Post and the Borough Council are invited to attend.

As a result of an investigation of the Community Service League of this city and agreement of council, the borough manager was authorized to find some odd jobs for the members who are being taken care of by the league to repay for their support. The league refused to accept unless they can do something for it. The borough will give these people the work they wish. Those wishing it will get in touch with Lowell W. Monroe. The man given work will do so entirely of his own accord. He will have no hours to stand or quit. The matter is left to his own discretion. When he thinks that he has done enough work for aid given him he may quit without having any questions asked. This plan was approved by council.

Final Meeting Held By Mission Class

Special Program Is Given When Members Assemble In Presbyterian Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—A most impressive program was enjoyed by the members of the Mission Study Class of the First Presbyterian church and a few special guests Friday afternoon in the church parlors. It was the occasion of the last meeting to be conducted by Mrs. Robt. Graham of Philadelphia who is from the Board of Foreign Missions.

Twenty-eight were in attendance at the meeting at which time special reports were given on the various religions of the world and their principles. The religions included in the reports were Mohammedanism, Buddhism, Hinduism, Shinto, and Christianity. A comparison was made with the latter. A hearty discussion was held by those present after the reports were the Mesdames H. F. Fleischer, Thomas A. Wilson, Thomas Haines, C. F. Christiansen, and Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Stevenson.

It was announced that Mrs. Graham will speak at the Sunday services in the First Presbyterian church.

New Castle Defeats Ellwood City, 33-7

REVISED LINEUP USED IN CONTEST

Reiber, Uram And Marvin High Scorers—Team Work Obvious In Game

Ellwood City Cagers Fight Hard But Are Outclassed In Floor Clash

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh's revamped New Castle high basketball team Friday night on the George Washington junior high floor romped off the easy 33-7 victory over Ellwood City.

The New Castle mentor started Edward Marvin and John Teplica at the forward positions, Andy Lasky at center and Nick Uram and Lester (Bus) Reiber at the sentinel berths.

In the opening quarter the Ellwood City team played badly basketball, holding the Tin City ramblers to five points. The Tubers collected three markers in the opening canto. Hardly had Cal Bolster let loose of the ball at center when Teplica buried a pass to Reiber, who dribbled to the southern hoop and scored. Nick Uram, New Castle's captain, annexed the other three points. He sank a two-throw from the foul mark and also a free toss. Kennedy scored from mid-center earlier in the period for the Ellwoodians. Dudick registered one point from the 15-foot line. The score at the end of the first quarter, New Castle 5, Ellwood City 3.

The rehabilitated Castleites garnered 11 more points in the second period while the Ellwood City crew tried desperately to score with many shots, but missed their mark. Reiber caught two goals and a foul in the second period. Marvin found the rims for a two-throw while Nick Uram annexed his second field goal of the game from the side. The shot was a pretty one. The Tubers just couldn't make the shot count this chapter. The half saw the Bridenbaugh protégés holding a comfortable lead at 16-3.

At the end of the first quarter Reiber for New Castle scored under the bucket but the field goal did not count due to the fact that the quarter was over and the gun would go off. The game was held up for a few minutes following the half when the cords on both baskets became loose. These, however, were soon repaired and the game proceeded.

Demonstrating more team work the senior high lads of New Castle broke through the Ellwood City team time and again in the third quarter and rang the bell for 11 more points. In 40 seconds the New Castle team scored three field goals. Marvin zipped one under the hoop. Reiber dribbled his way from the foul line for an open shot and Marvin retaliated from foul line with his second field goal of the third period.

Several minutes later this same lanky Marvin took another successful shot from the side for his third double decker of the period. Lasky made good one foul out of two. Latiano for Ellwood City went to the charity mark but missed his two tries. Teplica also was awarded two free heaves but he also blew them. Marvin caged the 11th point of the quarter near the end of the stanza from under the rim. The third quarter ended with New Castle on top, 27-5.

Coaches Lloyd of Ellwood City and Bridenbaugh in the fourth quarter sent in several subs. Lasso, Tomei and Scoloff wet to the tilt for Ellwood City while Reiber substituted for Teplica. Reiber, New Castle's guard, at the start of the fourth period tallied his sixth and seventh double deckers in rapid order from the side and a pretty one-handed heave in front of the hoop. Lasso made good one out of two fouls for the Tubers to bring their total to six for the evening.

Ruha missed his two gratis throws. Lasky dribbled in from the side to tally his only field goal of the game. Cavalier annexed the Ellwood City team's last point from the foul line. J. Uram, Ostrosky, Komnic and Battley were injected into the New Castle lineup. The final score favored New Castle 33-7.

Guards Shine.
The New Castle guards, Nick Uram and Reiber, played spectacular ball for New Castle. Nick Uram's passing was a bright spot. He also found his way into the scoring column for two field goals and one out of two fouls. Bus Reiber, shifty as an eel, was the high scorer with seven double deckers and one out of one foul. His general floor work, accompanied by his pretty shots, featured for New Castle. Edward Marvin, who only recently broke his way on the varsity quintet looked good. His total for the evening was five field goals.

Andy Lasky took the tip-off time and again and his work was on a par with other games. Teplica at forward also played his customary good game.

The Ellwood City boys were swept off their feet. They played up to their neck but they simply couldn't stop the Tin City ramblers who were "on". Latiano and Kennedy were the best for the neighboring town team.

Union township high will provide the opposition next Monday night for the New Castle team on the George Washington floor.

East Brook And Shenango Teams Split Two Games

East Brook Boys Defeat Shenango 22-15—Shenango Girls Win Game 28-26

East Brook boys defeated Shenango 22-15 in a County League game played at the Shenango High floor last night, and the Shenango High girls team handed East Brook girls a 28 to 26 setback. Both games were exciting and well played.

Girls Game Good
In the girls game the East Brook team held the lead right up until the final quarter and then saw the Shenango maidens go ahead of them. The East Brook guards Carlick and Speer played fine basketball. Simison was the high scorer of the game with ten field goals, while her opponents Booker and Lutton had nine between them. Tindall and Hill also played good basketball for Shenango.

The East Brook boys took an early lead and held it throughout the game. Krause, Arnold, Brown and Shuller scored field goals in the first period.

Weir started for Shenango in the second period in place of Craig. This quarter found both teams playing a defensive game. Shenango held a two-point lead at 8 to 6 as the first half ended. There were very few attempts made to score field goals.

East Brook Takes Lead
Coach Emericks team took the lead in the third period when they showed an exceptional burst of speed and dash. They tallied eight points in twelve minutes of playing, and the quarter found East Brook ahead 18 to 9. The final period found both teams playing a hard and fast game of basketball, with Shenango taking the scoring honors for the half.

Pratt with three field goals was the big gun for the Washington passers. Shop garnered four points for the Bessemerites.

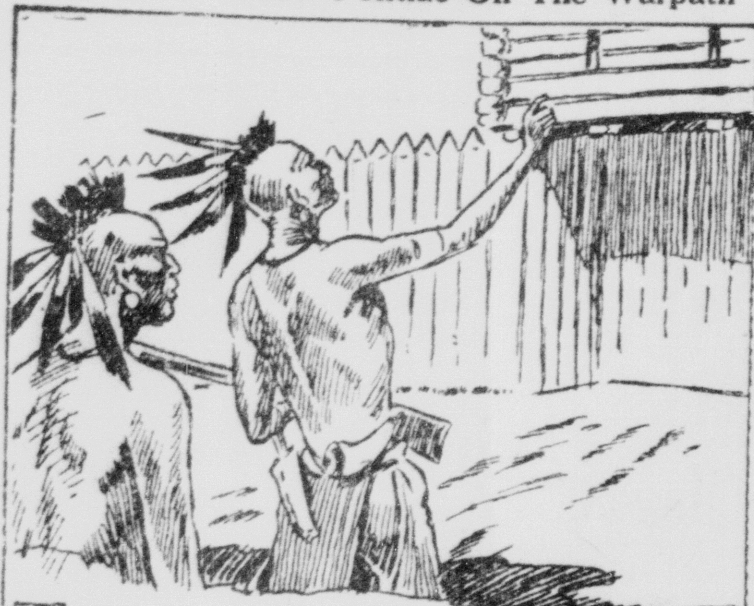

The victory last night put East Brook in a tie with Union for second place in the County League. New Wilmington leads the league. The league race is getting very interesting.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

Vanishing Americans
48—Pontiac On The Warpath

NOT LONG AFTER HIS MEMORABLE CONFERENCE WITH MAJOR GLADWYN, PONTIAC CAME TO FORT DETROIT WITH A LARGE PARTY OF BRAVES AND DEMANDED ADMITTANCE. HE WAS POLITELY TOLD THAT HE COULD COME IN, BUT THAT HIS FOLLOWERS MUST STAY OUTSIDE.

ENRAGED BY THIS RECEPTION, THE FIERCE OTTAWA THREW OFF THE MASK OF FRIENDSHIP AND BEGAN UTTERING DIRE THREATS AGAINST THE ENGLISH. © 1931, BY J. CARROLL MANSFIELD.

THEN PONTIAC AND HIS WARRIORS FIRED THEIR RIFLES AT THE FORT AND DASHED OFF INTO THE FOREST, GIVING BLOOD-CURDLING WAR WHOOPS.

A FEW SETTLERS LIVING NEAR DETROIT HAD DISREGARDED THE WARNING FOR ALL THE WHITES TO GATHER AT THE FORT AND UPON THESE THE INDIANS PROMPTLY VENTED THEIR FURY.

WHEN TO BE NONCHALANT

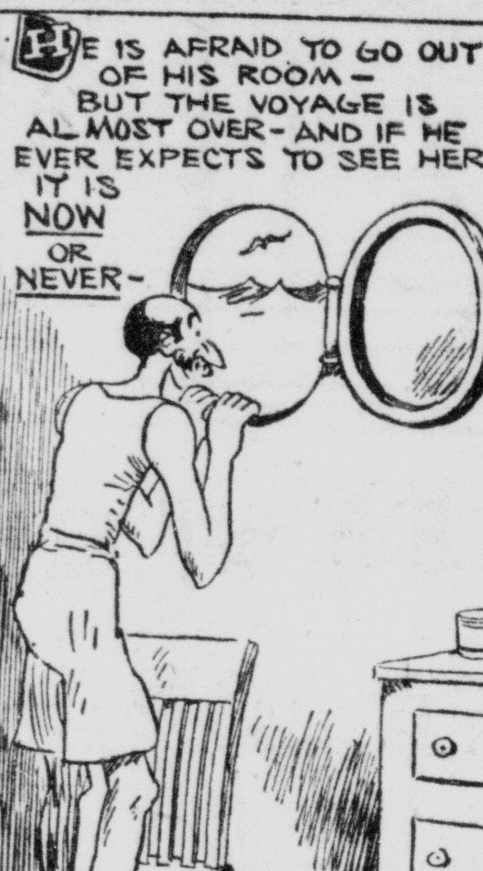

When you have forgotten your key and are trying to decide whether to get the wife up and ask her or climb in the window and run the risk of being shot as a burglar.

THE GUMPS

HOW AND WHERE WILL BIM EVER GET A CHANCE TO TALK TO THE BEAUTIFUL BLONDE MILLIE DE STROSS?

EVERYWHERE HE GOES HE SEES THAT MOTHER OF HERS AND HE KNOWS THAT SHE'S LOOKING FOR HIM TO GIVE HIM ANOTHER PIECE OF HER MIND.

HE IS AFRAID TO GO OUT OF HIS ROOM—BUT THE VOYAGE IS ALMOST OVER—AND IF HE EVER EXPECTS TO SEE HER IT IS NOW OR NEVER.

THE OLD GUARD

THERE SHE IS—HOW BEAUTIFUL SHE LOOKS THIS MORNING—BUT THE OLD GUARD IS THERE ALSO—THE SENTINEL ON DUTY—NO CHANCE!

Sharp Break In Auburn Is Market Feature

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—A further sharp break in Auburn Auto and a reaction in a few of the well known rails were the principal features of the dull and irregular week-end market.

Before the end of the first hour Auburn had followed up yesterday's 8½-point break with another loss of 8 points, selling 36 points under the high of last week. J. I. Case, Eastman Kodak and International Business Machine continued their downward course, while Union Pacific, leading the decline in the rails, fell off 2½ points. This stock suffered from reports of a possible shaving of the dividend rate at the next meeting of the directors of the road. Missouri Pacific preferred lost about 2½ points at 16. Atchison was down about 2 points at 75½.

On the whole, the market followed yesterday's irregularly downward course, with the industrials giving the best account of themselves. General Electric broke into new low ground when a block of 2500 shares went through at 18½, as reports of a 50 per cent reduction in the January volume of business reached the financial district. Losses in other market leaders, including American Can, Big Steel, the Standard Oil, American Telephone and Consolidated Gas, were mostly fractional.

Professionals were generally committed to the short side of the market, taking their cue from the week-end business reports and the further softening of prices of Copper, Rubber, Sugar and other materials.

Auburn Auto extended its reaction to 10½ points in the final period and closed with a net loss of 10 points at 106.

Union Pacific, leading the final downward move of the rails, dropped nearly 3 points to 68½ and finished with a loss of 2½ at 68½. Atchison lost 1½ and closed the week at 75½. New Haven was down ½ at 23½; Missouri Pacific preferred down 2 at 16½; Delaware and Hudson down ½ at 71½; Southern Pacific down ½ at 29½.

General Electric rallied in the final period and closed fractionally higher, at 19. General Motors was unchanged at 21; United States Steel down ½ at 38½; Bethlehem Steel down ½ at 17; American Can down ½ at 58½; Dupont down ½ at 48½; Sears Roebuck down ½ at 30½; Standard Oil of New Jersey up ½ at 26½.

TEST FOR MOBILE ARMY

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Md.—The fighting efficiency of Regular Army troops, unsupported by National Guard and Organized Reserve units, will be tested when mobile organizations of the U. S. Army's Third Corps Area concentrate at Fort George G. Meade, Maryland next September, it is announced. Virtually every arm and service of the Army will be represented among the 150 officers and 3,000 men who will comprise the combined fighting force. Plans for maneuvers and battle problems are being completed at the headquarters of Major General Paul B. Malone, Corps Area Commander.

The famous seventeenth-century dual library, with 300,000 volumes and 8,000 manuscripts, containing mementos of Luther and of Lessing, has been housed in a spacious building completed in 1886, in Wolfenbuttel, Germany.

Where Quake Spread Havoc and Death

Above is the scene of the disastrous earthquake that practically wiped out the entire city of Santiago, Cuba. Though the temblor lasted but thirty seconds, so severe was the shock that almost every building in the city was either razed or damaged. It is estimated that over 200 lives were lost in the cataclysmic half minute. The last census of the city gives the population as 160,000 persons. This was the first quake experienced in Santiago since 1852. Relief has already been sent to the scene of the disaster and troops have been sent from Havana to keep order and prevent looting in the stricken area. These views show, top, the harbor at Santiago; lower is a typical street scene.

Motor Tax Bill For 1931 Passed Billion Mark For Second Time.

Car owners of the country paid approximately $1,000,000,000 in registration fees, gasoline and personal property taxes during 1931 and it was the second year that the motor tax bill has reached the billion mark, according to Ralph W. Bolinger, president of the New Castle Motor club, which is affiliated with the American Automobile association.

The statement of the A. A. A. club executive was made on a basis of preliminary figures received from national headquarters which indicate that the 1931 tax bill included $348,590,000 in registration fees, $500,000,000 in gasoline taxes and $150,000,000 in personal property taxes.

He cited the need for a new taxation bill of rights for car owners and said that it is already at hand in the form of principles for the equitable taxes advanced by the A. A. A. national taxation committee, which he cited as follows:

"Article one. Motor taxes should be confined to two forms. One tax to be the equivalent of a property tax, expressed preferably through

Scouts' Celebration Starts Sunday, Lasts Entire Week

Joining with Boy Scouts of the nation over, Boy Scouts of the New Castle area, of Ellwood City and other scattered points, will officially open the observance of the 22nd anniversary of the founding of the organization on Sunday, Feb. 7.

County Takes Part.
Both in New Castle and Ellwood City there will be fitting church programs at night to mark the occasion. In New Castle the scouts will hear Dr. Walter E. McClure preach a scout sermon from his pulpit in the First Presbyterian church, while Ellwood's delegation will gather for their service in the First M. E. church there.

Scouts and scouters of the county will tune their radio dials on Monday evening at 8 or 8:15 o'clock to renew the scout oath again as national council officers in New York repeat it.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday will bring the usual troop programs, although special ceremonies appropriate to the anniversary are being arranged by many troops.

A rally in the Shelby auditorium at Ellwood City will feature the Ellwood program on Thursday evening, starting at 8 o'clock, while in the George Washington junior high school here, the New Castle district groups will participate in a similar tribute to their organization on Friday night.

Saturday will be devoted to hikes and a vigorous planning of the 1932 troop programs.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

Among the names that mean much in the history of New Castle is that of A. S. Love, who served for many years as prothonotary and deputy prothonotary of Lawrence county and was known and loved by a large group of the people of the city in his lifetime. He was born in Sharps, Pa., and at the age of ten years, his parents settled on a farm in that vicinity. He secured his education at Hermitage, Mercer county and New Wilmington. His father engaged more or less in the building and contracting business and required the assistance of his son during the latter's earlier youth, but subsequently he entered Westminster College, which he left in his sophomore year, in August 1882, in order to enter the Union Army. He enlisted in Company A, 142nd Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, and served almost three years. During this period he participated in all the campaigns of the Army of the Potomac, sharing its hardships and helping in gaining its victories. He enlisted as a private and although his regiment was usually in the thickest of the dangers of battle, he was never wounded. He was mustered May 29, 1865 with the rank of sergeant. He returned to his home in Mercer county and spent the following year as a bookkeeper in West Middlesex. He also served as deputy postmaster for H. N. Warren at the same time. From that service, he came to New Castle where he went into the woolen manufacturing business under the firm name of McKarns & Love, continuing for seven years under that business designation. The old firm was then succeeded by H. Love & Sons, which continued until 1877. In the spring of 1878 he was elected city treasurer for a period that extended over six years. When he retired from this of-

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

There are some birthdays this month which call for the flags being displayed, the banks closing, and speeches in the schools and all that sort of thing. The 12th is one and the 22nd another. Takes a good man to break out another birthday calling for similar measures. Long-fellow has a birthday this month, so does Aaron Burr. Burr's fact is today is Aaron Burr's birthday. And, if you don't mind, the engineer has a birthday today also.

Burr is one of the pioneers in American history who always got a tough break from the historians, or perhaps it was the newspapers of his day. About all we ever hear of him is the fact that he won a decision over Alexander Hamilton in a duel. He deserves a better play.

His was one of the keenest minds of the Revolution. As a student and as a citizen he was a brilliant man. Few know it, but he was the first head of the secret service and perhaps one of the reasons why Benedict Arnold was tripped is because Burr was the one man who suspected Arnold's young wife, Aaron apparently believed in the French axiom, "cherchez le femme" and in Arnold's case the femme was Mrs. Arnold.

She was hypped on society and titles and all the other tinsels that goes with that package. She was a friend of Major Andre's and back of the picture of Benedict Arnold's plotting against his country was this scheming woman. And Burr stood alone for a long time as the one who mistrusted her.

Roamed into a group of young men Friday night that you may not know exists. St. Andrew's Athletic Club down on Long avenue. A group of sixty or more young men from 17 to 25, banded together in an organization that has for its purpose the improvement of body, mind and spirit.

It's a group that deserves attention for in it are some lads who need only a few years' seasoning to take their places in the scheme of things. They have a good basketball team, but what is more important, they have a spirit that is going to make better men and better citizens.

The new organization which is being founded by Red Magee, "The Minor Sex Auxiliary" is drawing attention. A lot of queries as to how one gets to be a member and what one does, if any, after getting in.

Children are great institutions.

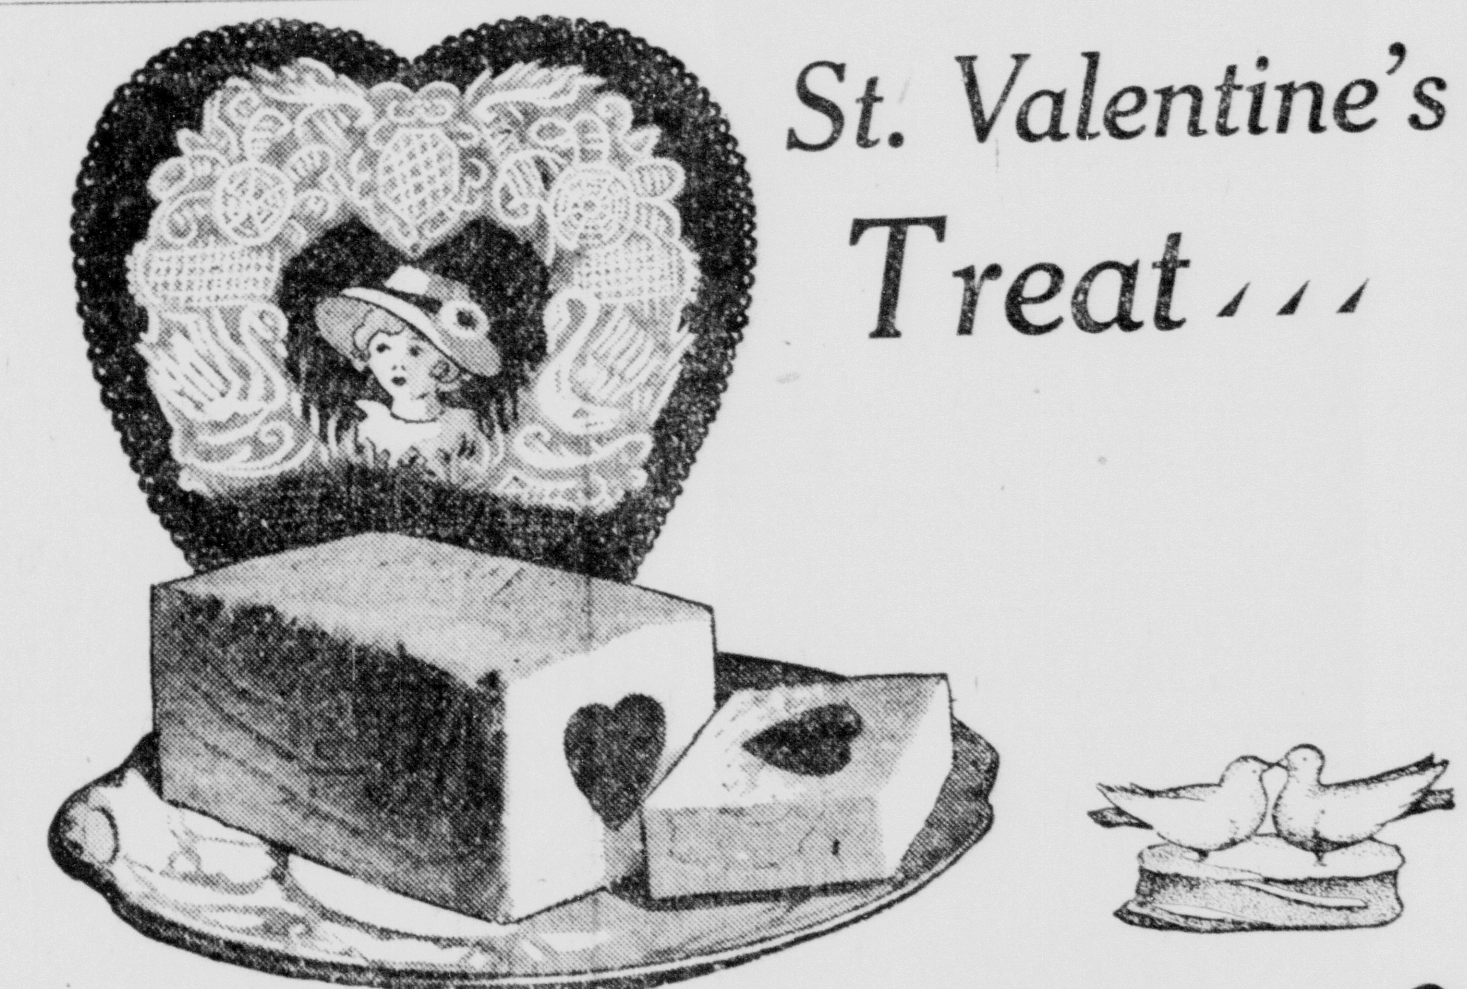

They don't only half way hold a home together for a few years, but they give parents something to think about besides cards. Babies bring estranged relatives together, they thaw out rich grandparents, an irresponsible misanthrope, children give the neglected wife something to live for, an often th' errin' husband t' his senses. Th' advent o' th' first baby revolutionizes a home, 'specially a cramped apartment. Th' young husband then realizes for th' first time that he's really handcuffed—that he's th' responsible head o' a real establishment, instead o' doin' up station, an' th' girl wife begins t' think o' all th' things they'll do after th' little darlin' gets big enough t' leave alone. Th' first baby makes a real-fer-serious partnership o' marriage. Th' low, overhangin' dread of a splitup disappears, th' mere, loose bow knot o' matrimony becomes a link o' steel, while th' four dollar plated weddin' ring is reinforced by a mutual interest that's stronger than all th' vows an' th' real business o' marriage has begun when th' first baby comes. Th' long years o' feedin', an' trainin', an' washin', an' dressin', an' educatin' th' child, have started. Maybe th' home'll be blessed by other children as time goes on. In that event th' work o' rasin' 'em an' puttin' 'em on a payin' basis may cover many years. But th' time finally comes when th' children are all scattered an' gone, an' then th' parents, if they're still livin' t'gether, are free t' see th' Grand Canyon, or buy a roadster, or visit th' children, or do any ole thing that strikes th' fancy. Maybe they kin split up if things are too prosy. Th'ers allus th' possibility
